David Hewes Is Dead at Age of 93

VAST ESTATE IS
DISPOSITION IS NOT KNOWN AS YET

Last night at his home at El Modena, David Hewes, pioneer and a prominent figure in California history, died after an illness of several days.

Death came at the age of 93. Since he celebrated his ninety-third birthday on May 16, Mr. Hewes enjoyed his usual good health until recently. Gradually his condition became serious, and for the forty-eight hours previous to death he was unconscious.

Through his establishment and maintenance of Hewes Park and through his long residence in this county, David Hewes was well known in this section.

Mr. Hewes was a man of wealth. His property is valued at several million dollars, including 820 acres at El Modena, set almost entirely to oranges and lemons, a big building in San Francisco and a block of store buildings in Los Angeles. Recently there was organized the David Hewes Company, to which it is believed Mr. Hewes deeded his property. It is understood that he had made provision for the disposal of his property in the event of his death, whether by will or by an arrangement for the transfer of stock in the company is not known here.

Funeral arrangements were completed this afternoon. The interment will be in Oakland. The funeral will be held at the Presbyterian church at Orange. The hour is 2 o'clock, Sunday, July 25.

It was stated today that Mr. Hewes left a will naming Frank Flint, former United States senator, of Los Angeles, and Granville Abbott of Oakland, nephews of Mr. Hewes, as executors. It was also stated that the will has not yet been opened.

At Hewes Park, where winds the firm automobile road among grassy plots, rows of giant geraniums and marguerites and terraced pepper trees, there did David Hewes, owner of the famous Anapauma ranch, expend much thought and money lavishly and lovingly. No less than $75,000 went into the up-keep and extension of this beauty spot, designed for the use of rich and poor alike.

Mr. Hewes spoke of the park as his hobby. It was a hobby that has worked out for the common good, but of all the thousands who have enjoyed its charms none found more delight in the park and its success than did Mr. Hewes, a lover of artistic effects and beautiful creations, whether by sculptor, painter or landscape artist.

Successful As Grower

As in all the other lines of endeavor that he undertook in his long and useful career, Mr. Hewes was eminently successful as a citrus fruit grower.

Even after he was over 90 years of age and almost to the very last, wonderful as it may seem, he attended to the details of the management, not only of his ranch in Orange county, but also of extensive business interests in San Francisco and Los Angeles.

For a few dollars an acre Mr. Hewes purchased the land now comprising the ranch. This was in 1882. In a short time the new owner, with characteristic desire to develop his property into usefulness, had the ranch planted to vineyards and barley. After the vineyards, came citrus orchards, along with twenty acres of walnuts and eighty acres of olives.

Builds Packing House
For the better handling and marketing of his products, Mr. Hewes built a splendidly equipped packing house on the Tustin branch of the Southern Pacific, which runs through the property and which he was largely instrumental in having built. In one year recently, the income from the ranch orange orchards alone was $72,000.

On the ranch there are about 400 acres of oranges and lemons bearing. Two years ago 150 acres of lemons were planted.

A review of Mr. Hewes' life takes one into a study of the early days in California, for he was one of those sturdy pioneers who had an important part in the making of California.

AMERICAN NOTE IS REGARDED AS ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY IN SEA WAR

*****
The full text of the United States note to Germany will be found on page 10 of Section Two of this issue. It is a note of great interest to every American.
*****

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The consensus of opinion here is that the American note is an ultimatum in spirit.

Opinion differs regarding Germany's probable course. Some believe Germany will hesitate to forfeit American friendship.

Others hold that Germany is not afraid of a new enemy and that defiance of America would leave Germany free to submarine at will.

BERLINERS ADMIT RUSSIANS CHECK GERMANS

BERLIN, July 24.—The War Office today admitted that the Russians had checked the Germans along the thirty-mile Warsaw front in the region of Blonie.

On the southeast front Von Mackenzen is near the Lublin-Cholm railway. German artillery is battering the Narow river front but the Russians are standing firm.

BERLIN OFFICIAL CIRCLES WITHHOLD COMMENT

BERLIN, July 24.—Official circles so far have withheld comment on the new note.

Ambassador Gerard said his thirty minutes' conference with Von Jagow was insignificant.

The afternoon newspapers published the full text of the message.

BRITISH PRESS CALL U. S. NOTE EXCEEDING FIRM

LONDON, July 24.—British newspapers regard the American note as exceedingly firm.

The Star says, "The note is couched in plain and unmistakable language. It will be little relished in Berlin."

The News says: "The note makes unpleasant reading for the Kaiser, his henchmen and other exponents of frightfulness."

PRESIDENT TO OUTLINE PLAN FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

WASHINGTON, July 24.—The White House announces that President Wilson plans to outline "a fair, reasonable and practicable" program for national defense upon his return from Cornish.

The announcement is regarded as deeply significant.

President Wilson intends to devote much time while at Cornish considering the situation on land and sea.

He plans conferences with Daniels and Garrison.

DEAD AND WOUNDED CARPET SLOPES OF HILL

PARIS, July 24.—Dead and wounded carpet the slopes of Little Reicha-kopf as a result of the deadlocked French-German fighting.

The Germans have delivered attacks every two hours but the French machine guns have shattered the Teuton ranks.

The War Office declares every assault has been repulsed.

Disregarding the sacrifice of life the Germans are rushing reinforcements for new attacks.

The Germans are heavily bombarding the positions around Rheims and Soissons, evidently preparing for a drive on the Verdun region.

ITALIANS CAPTURE GORITZ, SAY DISPATCHES

LONDON, July 24.—A Milan news agency dispatch declares the Italians have captured Goritz, an important victory.

WHY BLACK AND WHITE

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 24.—Black and white shoes are being turned out by the hundreds today by St. Paul's shoe factories, second in size in the nation. The black and white were formerly used in Europe, to indicate mourning. Their attractiveness caused a demand in this country.

LOYAL ORDER MOOSE MARCH

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—"Howdy Pap" echoed through San Francisco when approximately 15,000 members of the Loyal Order of Moose marched through the main streets to the Panama Pacific Exposition grounds where "Moose Day" was celebrated.

SOME JOB

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 24.—Anton Martin has a job as is a job, if the revenue kept up all year. He began his annual duties as city dog catcher a few days ago and the first five days netted him $54, at a dollar a dog.

SURVIVOR TELLS VIVIDLY HARROWING STORY OF PANIC SCENES AS GREAT VESSEL CAPSIZES

CHICAGO, July 24.—Theodore Doderstrom, one of the survivors of the Eastland disaster, tells the following graphic story of the horrors of the catastrophe:

"Passengers were crowding the outer rail ten and twenty deep. I noticed that the steamer began to careen slightly, but was not in the least alarmed.

"Just as the Eastland left the dock several hundred more passengers joined the throngs at the rail waving farewell to friends on the dock. The steamer instantly lurched drunkenly, righted herself, and again pitched on her side.

"Screaming, everybody joined in a mad rush to reach the side of the steamer nearest to the docks.

A dozen men and women jumped overboard. I think most of them were crushed beneath the ship before having a chance to swim.

"After the vessel lurched partly over, she seemed to drop on her side like a stone. In an instant bodies filled the water so thickly that the rescuers made no effort to save any except those showing plain signs of life. All others were abandoned."

JORDAN SCORES
OF COLONEL
ROOSEVELT

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 24.—Dr. Big Starr Jordan today denounced Colonel Roosevelt's "peace speech." He said if the nation followed Roosevelt's advice it would soon be plunged into war with Germany and Mexico.

He branded Roosevelt's attack on the "Peace-at-any-price" advocates as a "cheap slur" and declared "war is simply lawlessness. An army is an organization of lawlessness to resist lawlessness."

CHAINED TO TREE BY DESPERADO FOR WEEK

IDAHO FALLS, Idaho, July 24.—Rancher Ernest Empey, who was chained to a tree for a week by desperadoes demanding $6000 ransom has returned home. Lon Dean, a sheep herder, the alleged kidnaper, has been jailed.

Empey escaped while Dean slept.

The kidnaper told Empey's relatives he proposed to kill the captive Saturday night unless the ransom was paid.

STOCKTON BANK MAN PUTS BULLET IN HEART

STOCKTON, July 24.—Charles J. Hass, a prominent business man and director of the Stockton Savings Bank, committed suicide in a jewelry store here by a shot through the heart. Two years ago he suffered nervous breakdown. His wife died six months ago and since then he has brooded.

MUST HAVE TROOPS SAYS STRIKE SHERIFF

BAYONNE, July 24.—Sheriff Kinkead, fighting the Standard Oil strikers today, says he is at the limit of his resources unless the governor uses troops. Deputies today raided a striker's arsenal and captured fifty rifles and munitions.

'RAGGING' IN WATER
THE LATEST CRAZE

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Water "ragging" is the latest fad. A pipe organ at a popular plunge plays ragtime, while the bathers dance waist deep in the water. This promises to be one of the season's crazes.

BANKER KILLS SELF AS BANK SUSPENDS

FT. WORTH, July 24.—E. C. Baldrige, president of the Fort Worth Trust and Savings Bank, committed suicide today following the placing of the bank in the hands of a receiver.

BAKERSFIELD MAN KILLED BY THE HEAT

BAKERSFIELD, July 24.—Heat today killed Richard Baker, a shingler. Thermometers register 110 degrees.

TODAY'S ODDEST STORY

LONDON, July 14 (by mail).—A burglar on trial for stealing silver plate pleaded he wanted money to buy government war loan bonds because he was patriotic.

PANIC INDESCRIBABLE, DECLARES SURVIVOR

CHICAGO, July 24.—Ross Geeting, one of the men rescued from the sinking Eastland, declared the panic was indescribable. Men beat and trampled women carrying babies in a wild rush for safety. Geeting said:

"The screams of women and crying children and the shouts of men were frightful. Many women had their clothing torn entirely off in an endeavor to reach the rail or a port hole. There were terrible scenes around the stanchions and uprights as mobs fought to grasp the supports. The captain tried to quiet the panic but it was impossible."

STRIKING INCIDENTS OF THE GREAT DISASTER

CHICAGO, July 24.—Edward S. Schack, a commission merchant, who was at the docks at the time of the disaster, commandeered a big rowboat and rescued F. W. Willard. Both rescued more. They drew many through the port holes.

Peter Horwich, a musician, lost his violin. A few minutes later he saw a woman struggling and clinging to his violin. He saved both.

Caspar Lalind, his wife and two children became separated. Caspar swam ashore carrying his daughter. There he found his wife. His son was lost.

SORROW AT BIG FAIR; ILLINOISANS MOURN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Illinois Day at the exposition was sorrowful and all features were cancelled. Mayor Thompson prepared to return home this afternoon.

Governor Dunne and party were shocked. Dunne said: "This is terrible news. I cannot understand how it happened. Clark street is in the heart of the city with life-saving equipment on every side."

STEAMER WRONGLY BUILT

CHICAGO, July 24.—Former Alderman Taylor said today the Eastland was condemned six years ago because her center of gravity was not right. The steamer was taken to Cleveland to be rebuilt.

He thinks "the whole sickening matter should be mercilessly investigated, regardless of who is hit."

Pilot John A. Forrester says the Eastland was wrongly built and was top-heavy.

MESSAGE OF CONDOLENCE

LOS ANGELES, July 24.—Police Chief Shively sent a message of sympathy to Chief Healy of Chicago.

BALL GAME POSTPONED

CHICAGO, July 24.—The American League baseball game for today has been postponed on account of the Eastland disaster.

MAD PANIC SCENES ENACTED AS EXCURSION STEAMER GOES DOWN
AS SHE LEAVES CHICAGO DOCK

CHICAGO, July 24.—A police census this afternoon shows six hundred known dead in the Eastland disaster. Deputy Chief of Police Schuettler declares that 1800 perished, as it is believed 1100 bodies are trapped in the hull of the wreck.

Three hundred and fifty-three bodies lie in the Reid-Murdoch warehouse.

George Hooper, assistant federal ship inspector, has appointed two experts to probe the disaster.

Dr. T. A. Carter declares he found four hundred dead among the supposedly injured.

CHICAGO, July 24.—Eighteen hundred men, women and children—possibly more—are dead as the result of one of the most horrifying disasters in the history of navigation in Chicago.

At eight o'clock this morning the lake steamer Eastland of the Saint Joe line, crowded with 2000 excursionists en route to the Western Electric picnic at Michigan City, suddenly listed to one side, righted itself, gave another lurch and sank like a stone in twenty feet of water.

The steamer was just leaving her dock near the Clark street drawbridge as the disaster happened, and the exact has not yet been ascertained.

WATER SWARMS WITH SCREAMING VICTIMS

In a moment the water was swarming with screaming victims. Scores sank to their death in plain sight of the horrified crowds on the shore only a few feet away and yet helpless to render assistance.

At the time this dispatch is filed, hours after the sinking, scores are known to be still imprisoned in the state rooms of the vessel, and in the lower decks.

The water is so shallow that the right side of the vessel is still above the surface.

Rescuers, working frantically to chop holes in the sides of the ship, can plainly hear the agonized screams of those imprisoned.

One hour after the accident seventy bodies had been recovered, and divers are bringing additional bodies to the surface with every passing minute.

TERRIBLE SCENES ENACTED ON DECKS

Terrible scenes were enacted at arms length of the crowded docks. Men beat and trampled women carrying babies in their arms. Scores of women had their clothing practically torn from their bodies in their desperate efforts to reach the side of the ship nearest the wharf.

Captain Pederson declares the accident due to a broken air chute, which admitted tons of water into the left side of the vessel. Survivors declare that it was due to the many hundreds of passengers who crowded to the left rail to wave a farewell to their friends ashore.

Men, women and children are running through the streets screaming the name of wife or husband or "Father" and "Mother."

MOB TRIES TO LYNCH CAPTAIN AND MATE

Captain Pederson and First Mate Fisher were at once arrested at the request of W. Burkhardt, commissioner of public works. A short time after their arrest a mob of ten thousand attacked the twenty policemen guarding the prisoners. They broke through the cordon and beat the two captives. Threats of lynching were freely made. Only the free use of clubbed revolvers saved the men.

Three huge dredgers are attempting to right the Eastland, while six divers are at work in the search for corpses.

WIFE TORN FROM MAN'S GRASP AND DROWNS

Theodore Doderstrom was rescued unconscious. He said he had held his wife up for what seemed hours, until she was torn from his grasp as other women seized him in their wild struggles. His wife was drowned.

GIRL OF GOLDEN WEST AT NEW WEST END

"The Girl of the Golden West" is to be shown at the West End Theater tomorrow night only.

"The Girl of the Golden West" is an orphan who keeps the saloon in the California mining town of Cloudy during the days of the '49 gold rush. Her utter honesty and fearlessness command the respect of all the "boys." Of her many suitors, the one she is most disposed to favor is Jack Rance, the sheriff's gambler from New Orleans, who is somewhat less rough than the rest of the men.

At the time when the story begins the community is at a high pitch of excitement concerning the exploits of a city-bred road-agent, whose real name is Johnson but who is known as Ramerrez and leads a particularly desperate band of Mexicans. In spite of the fact that $5000 has been offered for his capture, Ramerrez holds up the Wells Fargo stage, robbing all the passengers. While doing this, he receives a slight wound on the wrist and when his band disperses with the booty remains behind to bathe the injury. The "girl" chances to ride by, is interested by her very first glimpse of the fascinating stranger, comes to his aid and binds up the wound with part of her bonnet string.

This is the beginning of the romance between the "girl" and the road-agent whom she knows only as "Mr. Johnson." The romance is full of thrills and interest.

"Brother Officers," which is to be shown at the West End Theater Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is the story of the son of a London "book-maker." The boy is brought up in a sordid atmosphere and is taught to cheat at cards by his father's clerk, Jim Stanton. Stanton runs away with the bookmaker's money and the bookmaker's wife soon runs away to join him. The shock kills the bookmaker, and his son leaves home with the one ambition—to find and kill Stanton.

He enlists in the British army as James Hinds and is sent to Afghanistan where his regiment sees some sharp fighting with the natives. His adventures in Afghanistan form the basis of the remainder of the play and for excitement and all-round romance has hardly been exceeded.

In a touching and beautiful character, that of Glad, the little waif of the East Side slums, who in her darkest hours never loses her faith in the Supreme Being, Mary Pickford attains a degree of power in "The Dawn of a Tomorrow," the latest Famous Players film company's production, greater than any of her past remarkable portrayals. This notable film adaptation of Frances Hodgson Burnett's thrilling drama of today and tomorrow, is the feature attraction July 29, 30, 31, at the new West End Theater on the Paramount Program.

Completely charming, Miss Pickford's portrayal of this wonderful character has a delightful frankness that will captivate the spectator with its appeal. The tale of Glad is that of a picturesque, lovable little philosopher, groping timidly for help from an unseen power and demanding positive proof of the existence of an Almighty, whom she but vaguely comprehends.

IN "THE CUP OF LIFE" to be shown at Clune's Theater Tuesday and Wednesday, two sisters, Helen and Ruth, just merging into womanhood, stand upon the threshold of life. To one, the view is made attractive by the alluring prospect of worldly pleasures—to the other, the vista is one of the simpler delights of home. Both drink deep of the cup of life. Ruth, a happy wife and mother, realizing the deeper meaning of a life of simple contentment, sips the nectar from the brim. Helen, selfish and material-minded, soon reaches the inevitable end of the downward path and drains the cup to the bitter dregs. Not a very pleasant ending—but the play will make you think.

'THE SIX-CENT LOAF' AT THE PRINCESS

Florence La Badie is to be seen at the Princess Sunday in one of the simplest and most appealing roles she has had to play this year. Florence La Badie exercises all her undeniable fascination as the little factory girl, Mary Quinn, in "The Six-Cent Loaf," a two-reel Thanhouser production. She is ably supported in this drama of poverty and courage in the face of misfortune and impending starvation. Leonard Benham, seven, and Helen Badgley, the Thanhouser "kidlet," appear as Miss La Badie's brother and sister for whose sakes the difficult struggle is made. This is a splendid production.

There will be a two-part Keystone Monday and Tuesday at the Princess theater. An all-star Keystone cast makes this picture a decided success. Mabel Normand is seen in the title role, while Mack Sennett and Roscoe Arbuckle are rubes. The new school teacher proves to be "the marryin' sort" in spite of the school board's hopes. This is a comedy which is a sure laugh-producer.

There will also be a strong two-part Kay Bee, "The Pathway From the Past," which is a very interesting crook story, featuring Thomas Chatterton. There is a lot of exciting action and the acting is praiseworthy. An exciting gun fight between the girl's brother and the crook, in which both men perish, ends an absorbingly interesting drama.

BIG FEATURES COMING TO LYRIC THEATRE

"Betty's Dream Hero," a two act special feature with Ella Hall and Robert Leonard, is the headliner at the Lyric tonight and judging from many favorable comments made by those who had the pleasure of witnessing the program at the matinee today, the entire program is one of unusual enjoyment.

For Sunday and Monday, "The Snow Girl," a thrilling and picturesque special three-act Broadway feature is one of the important headliners which this theatre has on its program. Brinsley Shaw, Mildred Manning, Glen White and a big cast of Eastern Universal stars enact leading roles in a drama of the north woods.

Manager Knapp announces that Tuesdays, which have been known as William Fox feature days have been discontinued at 10c and in the future Tuesdays and Wednesdays of each week will be devoted to the big features and the price will be 5 cents for all seats.

The first feature to be presented under the new "order of things" will be the five act Universal special, entitled "The Silent Command," in which dainty Ella Hall, Robert Leonard, Alan Forrest, Harry Carter and a big cast of Universal stars are featured in a fascinating and absorbing tale of the influence of mind on matter. With this feature will also be presented a beautiful drama with Sydney Ayres, entitled "Diamonds of Fate," and for those who enjoy comedy of the higher class, "Their Friend the Burglar," by a cast of Nestor comedy stars will be presented. Continuous performance will prevail, with the first show beginning at 1:30 p. m. and the price of admission afternoon and night will be 5 cents.

CLUNE'S BILLS ISLAND OF REGENERATION

Than "The Island of Regeneration" Reverend Cyrus Townsend Brady never wrote a more absorbing book. The film is to be shown at Clune's Theater on Monday only.

A beautiful girl—running away from the unwelcome attentions of the owner of the yacht on which she was a guest—cast upon a tropical island in the Southern Pacific; the sole inhabitant, a man who had lived alone there since early childhood; his only remembrance of language the "Now I Law Me," taught him twenty years before by his mother. This forms the basis of a really enthralling romance.

"The Absentee" is somewhat in the nature of a departure from the conventional in films, being entertainingly allegorical throughout. It is to be shown at Clune's Thursday and Friday.

Proof of Prosperity
One proof of prosperity which now prevails throughout the country, says Director of the Mint Robert O. Wooley, is the large demand for subsidiary silver coins.

"The demand for subsidiary silver coins is practically unprecedented for this season of the year," Mr. Wooley said, "and that is an excellent sign. It means not only that a lot of money will be needed for moving crops, but big industrial payrolls, and plenty of patronage for summer resorts. This urgent early summer call for small coins has long been regarded in the mint service as a harbinger of extraordinary commercial activity in the autumn and winter to come; the present demand is thought to be worthy of more than passing notice, because of the size of the reserves carried by many of the national banks of the country, though the one is not necessarily influenced materially by the others."

BIG MONEY MADE BUYING HORSES TO FEED GUNS OF EUROPE

CHILLICOTHE, Mo., July 24.—All of the carefully formulated restrictions that used to control the purchasing of horses for the armies of Europe have gone by the boards.

There was a period during the first month or two of the great conflict that the cavalry officers of the allies, detailed to the United States to secure animals for use on the fighting front, made a brave effort to maintain their old standards. A horse had to weigh at least 1300 pounds, be so many hands high, be free of blemish, both internal and external, have a showy foot action and show evidences of high spirit. But now all that sort of thing is of the past. Anything that can weigh up to 1000 pounds and walk on four ostensibly sound legs can get past in flying colors.

And for this class of animal the allied governments are paying an average price of $175 per head.

Demand is Great

Never in the history of American horse raising has there been such a demand for animals as exists today. Breeders and buyers alike are reaping fortunes. One firm located in Missouri is shipping an average of 4000 horses per month to the Canadian border and is employing 50 buyers to scour the central and mountain western states to secure animals. High as is the price today breeders are holding back and in confidence buyers themselves will tell you that by winter time they expect to see the average price rise to $200.

The demand is becoming more pressing every week. Italy, within the last few days has contracted with an Oklahoma firm for 25,000, while Great Britain and France have lifted the lid on any previous limitations of their contracts. They will take all that are offered.

Short Life on Front

The average life of a horse at the front is said to be just ten days.

Some of the best bred horses of the west have already been sold and before snow flies many more are going.

"I bought a pacer today," said a young horse buyer who makes Missouri and Kansas his territory, "for $500, for the English army. That horse had a record of 2:00 on the Grand Circuit and his pedigree went back as far as you could see. If this war keeps up for another year it will take the American horsemen a decade to build up the American horse to the standard it kept before this war broke out.

"We buyers get five dollars a head for every horse we buy. There are forty-seven men buying horses for my firm. In all there are about 250 buyers now tripping about the west looking for stuff to feed the machine guns in Flanders. I average about eighty horses a week although I bought 200 one week not long ago. That's making a fairly good salary for me. Before this war broke out I thought that $25 a week as manager for a Missouri livery stable was great business.

Small Fortunes Made

"All of the old gang that used to follow the strings about the tracks in the summer and hang out around the yards in Chicago and St. Louis and Kansas City in the winter, are in the horse buying game today and living on easy street. Why, say, I met an old pal of mine in Des Moines who took me up to the Commercial Savings Bank and showed me a balance of $4,000 in his favor. He hadn't been making a real good living for the last ten years and now he's fixed for life on what he's cleared on the market in the last ten months.

Big Shipments Made

"July 1 my firm made one of the biggest shipments of horses ever put on cars. We got hold of 1000 head and sold them to Great Britain for about $175 each. The British government has two horse 'resting stations' in the United States. One of these is at Boone, Ia., and the other is at Englewood, Ill., near Chicago. We ship most of our animals to Vancouver, B. C., where the English take them over. I understand they are shipped via the Suez Canal.

"The American army is getting into the same now and I have an order for both horses and mules for the U. S. A. However, the American officers maintain the old standards and we take care that our best stock goes to Uncle Sam."

Removal Sale

In view of removing to other quarters, and in order to reduce our stock of Staple and Fancy Groceries, we will make a Special Sale for Cash on any and every thing in stock, commencing July 5th, running 20 days. Fresh, clean stock. This is your opportunity to supply yourself. Don't fail to investigate—and profit by it.

HORSE BUYERS COMB VALLEY FOR STOCK FOR WAR PURPOSES

MERCED, July 24.—Horse dealers have been combing the stock ranches of this vicinity for the past few days selecting the best of the available horses and mules for exportation to Omaha, Neb., the general trading center, to supply the French and English armies with animals for artillery, cavalry and transport uses. Already two carloads have gone this week and more are expected to follow within the next several days. The demands of the warring nations are for horses of from 5 to 12 years of age, weighing from 1000 to 1600 pounds, measuring from 14 to 16 hands. The individual requirements vary according to whether the animal is to be used for light or heavy artillery, cavalry or transport purposes. Prices paid range from $75 to $165. The stock dealers state that there are 24,000,000 horses in the United States at present, and that $7,000 were sent to Europe the past year. As the number of colts under the war age in the United States is said to be very large at present, the horse dealers fear no scarcity of available animals within the next several years, despite the pressing demands of the war right now.

ARE TO DISCUSS HARBOR BONDS PROPOSAL

The proposal to form a harbor district of Orange County and issue bonds for the improvement of Newport harbor will be the principal topic of discussion at the monthly meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at Huntington Beach next Wednesday night.

That those who have been fathering the harbor project plan to start petitions looking to the formation of a harbor district as soon as the harbor bills become law in August has been reported in the Register. There is little question but that the Associated Chambers will endorse the project.

Another matter to be discussed is the proposal to have a county fair at the Santa Ana race track.

The meeting Wednesday night will be held at the factory of the Pacific Oil Cloth & Linoleum Company. The dinner will be served at 7:30 o'clock. Those who want to see the factory making oil cloth are to be on hand at 6 o'clock. The plant will be kept working after hours in order to give the visitors a chance to see it in operation.

All persons from this section who expect to attend the meeting should notify J. C. Metzger at the Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce of that fact.

NEWS LETTER OF SEAL BEACH

SEAL BEACH, July 24.—The Methodist Sunday School of Garden Grove were down for the day and enjoyed the surf as well as the attractions. Many of the members of that church are old timers in the county and know the beach that offers safe and sane recreation.

Mr. Fitz, superintendent of Garden Grove school, with his family, have taken a cottage for the summer on Eighth street.

Mr. Arkley, a prominent rancher of Garden Grove has a cottage on Eighth street.

Mrs. Jesrum of Anaheim, together with his family, have been spending the past month in their cottage on Seal Way. The young people of this family are responsible for many enjoyable parties and the Swains think this a dull time since their departure.

Mrs. D. Violet, son and daughter, of Garden Grove, are spending some time in their cottage on Eighth street. Occasionally the doctor comes down and enjoys a glimpse of the moonlight on the waves.

Mrs. Russell and baby Eleanor are spending a few days with Mrs. Russell's parents in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Storm and sons, with their aunt, Miss Reywalt, are spending the summer in their cottage on Seventh street. Mr. Storm was in the bank at Anaheim for years, but now has business in Imperial.

UNIQUE TIRE TEST IS MADE BY VIRGINIAN

Mr. E. J. King of Morgantown, W. Va., had a curiosity to see just how much a Diamond tube really would stand—he had the so many instances of its unusual sturdiness and tensile strength—so he hit upon this convincing experiment. The result surprised even Mr. King.

At first he inflated the tube slowly. Then after an unusually large quantity of air had gone into it, he stretched to its farthest point a section of the tube. This made the side walls thinner than at other points and a little bulge appeared just like a toy balloon. By gradually increasing the pressure and working the distension along the tube, Mr. King was able to reach his remarkable result.

People like to be "shown," so Mr. King proudly trotted his Diamond through the streets of Morgantown followed by admiring crowds.

A COUGH REMEDY THAT RELIEVES
It's prepared from the healing Pine Balsam, Tar and Honey—all mixed in a pleasant, soothing Cough Syrup called Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. Thousands have benefited by its use—no need of your enduring the Cough or risking a dangerous Cold. Go to your dealer, ask for a 25c original bottle Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey, start using at once and get rid of your Cough and Cold.

BREEZY LETTER GIVES NEWS OF HUNTINGTON BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 24.—The Public Library Board has reorganized by the election of Arthur E. Paine as president and Mrs. C. H. Howard as secretary. The board has just completed paying for the furnishing of the library and is now making plans to gradually beautify the lawn and improve the property. Lippia grass which was set out in the rainy season, has grown well and the remainder of the grounds will be covered with the same plant.

Marbleite electroliters will be placed at the entrance of the building and ferns will be planted where they will do the best.

Arrangements have also been made to purchase additional culture books used by the grammar school pupils and new fiction and reference works will be added.

R. M. Dickinson and family of Alhambra have been visiting F. H. McElfresh and family.

Mrs. A. J. Young has been enjoying a delightful visit from her sister, Mrs. Emma Douglass, of Lincoln, Neb., whom she had not seen for twenty years. Mrs. Douglass has now left Huntington Beach for a visit at Catalina Island. Later she will go to San Diego and return here to continue her visit.

Miss Marjorie Wyatt has returned from the exposition at San Francisco, to which place she went with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Winn of Long Beach.

A. E. Webster, who was employed by the Holly Sugar Company during its last campaign, has returned to this city and will be employed in the same work again this year.

Mrs. L. R. Whitney, who has been visiting her old home in West Virginia is expected home next week.

The eighth annual Holiness camp meeting began at Tent City Thursday evening with a fair attendance. This meeting will continue up to and including August 1. The services of the camp meeting are in charge of the board of superintendents, composed of Rev. M. L. Haney, Rev. W. E. Gill and Rev. Fred A. Ross. Others who will assist in making the meetings a success are Rev. S. A. Danford, district superintendent of Bismark, N. D.; President W. P. Pinkham of the Friends Training School, and Earl P. Wilde of the Nazarene church, who will act as song leader.

The daily order of service is as follows:

Early morning prayer meeting at 6 o'clock; Bible reading service, 10:30 a. m.; preaching service, 2:30 p. m.; song and testimony service, 7 p. m.; Evangelistic services at 8 p. m.

The leading workers are all present at the meeting and the attendance is expected to increase through the week with a big jump on Sunday.

Preparations are being made for a good attendance at the monthly banquet of the Associated Chambers of Commerce at the Innoeum and oilcloth factory next Wednesday evening.

The Woman's Club will serve the banquet and will endeavor to maintain the reputation which it earned at the Board of Trade banquet in May. In addition to the fund which it already has on hand for a club house.

Mrs. T. B. Talbert is president of the club and is leaving no stone unturned in her efforts to accomplish what the club very much desires, the erection of a club home in the near future.

Mrs. May Boyce, who has been spending several months as the guest of Mrs. L. M. Lindsey has returned to her home in Wauwatosa, Wis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. McCarter of San Diego stopped in this city for a short visit with Mrs. W. A. Wupperman on their way to the exposition at San Francisco.

George Hageman of Phoenix, Ariz., recently arrived here in his Franklin car and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Malchow.

Mrs. E. J. Newberry and son, Walden Newberry, of Los Angeles, have been the guests of Mrs. L. M. Lindsey.

REPORTS MOOSE CONVENTION

With the installation of the new board of Supreme officers into office at the Hotel U. S. Grant, San Diego, last night, the twenty-seventh convention of the Supreme body of the Loyal Order of Moose passed into history, and the delegates scattered to the four quarters of the continent.

"The convention was the most important ever held in the history of the order," said Charles S. Shaw, delegate from Santa Ana, today, "both in point of numbers of delegates attending as well as the important items of business transacted at its sessions."

Delegates were present from every province of Canada, Alaska, each and every state in the Union, the District of Columbia and far-off Honolulu. In all, 642 credentials were passed upon by the credentials committee, and that number was seated in the convention, when the Supreme dictator, Mahlon M. Garland, called the meeting to order last Monday morning, using a very fine gavel, presented to him by San Diego lodge, for the purpose.

"E. J. Henning, the newly elected dictator, is a resident of San Diego and Milwaukee. He is a lawyer and is said to be a very able man in his chosen profession."

Important Legislation
"The most important question which came before the convention, from a humanitarian standpoint, was that of the new sanitarium which it is proposed to build for the treatment and possible cure of those members of the order, or their wives, who may contract tuberculosis. It was the sense of the meeting, after hearing the report of the committee of investigation, that the sanitarium should not be built this year, as the relative merits of several towns desirous of having the sanitarium."

After having seen all of the figures on Savings tires, Reed stated that he was not at all surprised that the percentage of adjustments was so low, notwithstanding the well known liberality of the Savings Tire Company in the matter of making allowances and that he would not be surprised if the already liberal adjustment basis, was increased before long.

rum, were aired at such length that the delegates could not decide where it ought to be built. The matter is left to the Supreme Council for settlement.

Mooseheart
"Of course, Mooseheart, the especial pride of the order, came in for a great share of attention and care. The reports as to its condition and the great work which is being accomplished in it were much appreciated by the members of the convention."

"A new office, that of general dictator, was created. The duties of the new officer will be to assist the dictator in specific work. The office will be appointive."

"San Francisco lodge No. 26 won the first prize in the ritualistic contest, taking but 45 minutes to put on a degree and earning a grand average, in percentage, of 98.26 per cent. This was very much better than the time or percentage made by any of the other teams."

"There is not the changing of a single word in the ritualistic wording of the secret work of the order. It remains verbatim as before."

"There were very few changes in the laws of the order. What alterations were decided upon will be beneficial to all members."

"A resolution to hold meetings but two times each month was lost."

"An attempt was made to reduce the number of weeks (at a member will receive benefit from thirteen, in each year, to ten in each year. This was defeated, as well as a proposition that the amount given as benefit should be reduced from $10 to $5 each week, with the first week of illness paid for."

"A resolution to make it compulsory on the lodge physician to attend each meeting was lost."

Buffets to Remain
"A strenuous fight for the elimination of the buffet from a lodge hall and club rooms was made. Governor Capper of Kansas led in this fight, by sending a resolution with his home lodge delegation to offer for the consideration of the members. The proposition was lost by a very close vote, and this will encourage those who have this matter at heart to try again. The large cities voted soundly for the buffet, while the smaller towns voted the other way, but there were not enough to win."

Thursday's Big Time
"The biggest time of the convention, at least from a social standpoint, was held Thursday, which was denominated 'Moose Day' at the fair for the day."

Will Meet in Pittsburgh
"It was decided to hold the next constitutional convention in the city of Pittsburgh, in 1917. There were eighty-four in the Pittsburgh delegation, and they brought a fifty-piece band right with them."

"Speaking of bands, the Boys' Band, of Mooseheart, is some aggregation of musicians. Some of the little fellows are not more than nine years old, yet can play their instruments as well as many of the best bandsmen."

NEWS BUDGET OF EAST NEWPORT

EAST NEWPORT, July 24.—Mrs. H. H. Lindenberg and Miss Lindenberg were hostesses Wednesday afternoon for the Auction Bridge Club of East Newport, at their home on Surf avenue. The afternoon was pleasantly spent at the game of auction, and after the game refreshments of sherbet and cakes were served. The two new members of the club, Mrs. Kenyon and Mrs. E. E. Crandall were awarded prizes for the highest and lowest scores, the former receiving a pair of silk hose and the latter a jar of jam.

The "Ocean Rest" at East Newport has the following new guests registered for the week: Linton H. Smith of Los Angeles, the Misses Dorothy Milloft and Clara Bartlett of Artesia, and E. H. Bramwell of East Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. L. V. W. Brown and daughters, of Riverside, are occupying their home on Surf avenue for the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Rindge and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hole of Los Angeles are occupying their beautiful home on Surf avenue for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bettner and daughter, Miss Dorothy Bettner, returned to their home in Riverside Monday after spending the week end at East Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Baden are here from Riverside for a few weeks and are occupying their cottage on Central avenue.

Miss Marion Potter is entertaining a number of friends at her summer home on Surf avenue. Included in the party are the Misses Doris Groat, Julia Dinsmore, Genevieve Ford and Marian Clancy.

Mrs. J. K. Miller and son, A. Blanchard Miller, of Fontana, are occupying their home on Surf avenue for a short stay, and have as their guests Mrs. William Newport and daughter, Catherine.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Carhart have returned from a two-weeks' trip to San Francisco and Tahoe, and are again at their home on Bay Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ingersoll of San Bernardino are occupying their home on Central avenue and are hosts to a house party of young people.

THE MISSION PLAY

If you haven't seen The Mission Play you have at least one good thing left in the grab-bag of life.
Or, if you are so situated and circumstances that you can never see it, you have missed one of the truly good and great things of life.
The Californian who has not seen The Mission Play has not only missed or too-long postponed a priceless opportunity, but he has failed in a civic obligation. Every man of California owes it to the state to have the lesson of The Mission Play graven on his heart; and he should esteem it a duty and a privilege to pay a tribute to the author of the play, John S. McGroarty, the true California poet.
Many people have an idea that The Mission Play must be dull, lugubrious, depressing. On the contrary, while tremendously impressive in its spiritual aspects, it is intensely dramatic, richly romantic, artistically beautiful and historically instructive. And the music alone is worth a trip to San Gabriel and the price of admission.
There is something in the play to please every taste—the spectacular, the dramatic, the romantic; a note of grand opera, a dash of vaudeville; and no one with a soul can fail to be thrilled, awed, inspired and rendered reverential by the artistic, historical and spiritual phases of the presentation.

THE SUB-NORMAL MAN

In a number of the Outlook Magazine for July, W. S. Rainsford has a most interesting account of "Bums." He writes from many years of experience with shiftless ne'er-do-wells in the New York slums.
Dr. Rainsford's theory is that "bums" are mostly "sub-normal" people, who in school were backward children. They found the class work too hard for them. They fell behind, became discouraged, and got into the habit of slipping through with their tasks unfinished. The boy who can't keep up in school may become later the man who can't keep his job. Yet he may have done the best he could.
Some of these boys who can't do book work have common sense and native shrewdness, and do very well when they get to work. But others fail to hold their jobs and in a few years lose their nerve and grip on life. They take seasonal jobs like harvesting crops, shovelling snow, etc., tasks in which almost any kind of labor is acceptable.

Dr. Rainsford believes that much more care ought to be taken with children in the schools. He finds that the sub-normal child costs the state far more than the cost of properly educating him would be. The majority of petty criminals come from this class, and the pauper accounts are largely for help to such people.

The sub-normal child often needs nothing except a little more explanation than the ordinary child gets. The teacher of a full class room can't stop to make everything clear to the backward boy. She would never get her classes into high school if she did. Consequently these pathetic little stupid drift along, never getting any real grip on life and work. If one of them could be placed in a class at school, where they would keep digging at a subject until they knew it thoroughly, they might come out very well, and make good, faithful, efficient workers with their hands.

EDITOR AND COURT

A Denver editor has been fined $250 for contempt of court. His offense was that he refused to reveal the source of information that had led to exposure of legislative corruption. It is very easy to be in contempt of a Denver court.

It is customary for a lawyer to regard information as "privileged." Such information he may not be forced to divulge, and he needs betray no confidence in relation to it. He may keep his mouth shut, and retain good standing. Often a client accused of serious crime makes a full confession of guilt to the lawyer defending him. This does not change the attitude of the lawyer. He still strives to establish the innocence of his client, and will, with tears in his eyes and a fine tremor in his voice, plead to the jury for a verdict he knows to be not in consonance with justice. There is a fiction that a lawyer is an officer of the court. This procures him certain immunities, but it is a very hollow fiction. The aim of the lawyer is as likely to be to bamboozle the court as to help it carry out the purpose of the law. This is not a reflection upon the practitioner, but merely reveals the ethics governing his conduct.

The proposition may be submitted, confidently, that the editor is at least as useful a citizen as the lawyer. He appears, mostly without fee, in the interest of the whole community. If he learns a fact, the publication of which would be of public service, he publishes it. Why is not the knowledge of that fact as much his property as similar knowledge would be the property of a lawyer? Yet he does not employ it for a sinister object, and the lawyer sometimes does. And why should a judge seek to force the editor to betray confidence? This Colorado editor had accomplished a distinct good by his course. He had employed righteously his information, and perhaps had received the information only on pledge of secrecy. The courts, generally, are respected. The courts of Colorado, it must be admitted with regret, generally are not. But no judge is superhuman, and the one to hedge the bench about with artificial majesty, presuming to assume the functions of the editorial conscience, is not winning regard for himself or the tribunal over which he presides, capably perhaps.—Pasadena Daily News.

1800 DEAD AS BIG LAKE STEAMER CAPSIZES AND GOES TO BOTTOM

The wild panic prevailing along the riverfront has to a large extent prevented the identification of the dead.

Dozens of small vessels and the harbor police boats saved scores from the water. Many died after being carried to the docks, in spite of the fact that every pulmotor in the city was rushed to the scene of the accident.

Business throughout the city is practically suspended. Almost every delivery wagon has been sent to the waterfront to convey the injured to hospitals.

As fast as the bodies of the dead are recovered they are being taken aboard the steamer Theodore Roosevelt lying near by, which has been turned into an improvised morgue. Already the dead are lining the decks.

Lieutenant J. J. Mahon personally superintended the taking of thirty-one bodies from the water.

At 11 o'clock Deputy Police Chief Schuttler stated that two hundred dead had been recovered, while many more than that number were missing.

Fifty priests administered conditional extreme unction as the bodies were brought from the water. They worked on the river bank for hours. Sometimes they bent over a body as the doctors worked.

Father Thomas Kelly of the West Side Church of the Precious Blood, was among the first to join the work of rescue.

Pitable scenes tore the hearts of the workers. The Reid-Murdoch warehouse and sales rooms at the foot of Clark street were used as a temporary morgue where bodies were piled in long rows.

Relatives and friends searched among the dead. Some silent, with their faces drawn by the utmost tortures of grief, pointed and whispered the names of their beloved dead and stood mute.

Others screamed and fainted.

Some were rescued severely injured. One man was found a mile distant in a dazed condition, with a jagged forehead wound.

Some wandered even into the loop district and were found staggering in the streets with clothing torn and blood flowing from wounds.

The stiffened arms of some bodies clasped two babies. There were three or five bodies of women and children to each man.

Mrs. B. Ritzhamck, one of the rescued, begged the surgeons to allow her to return and hunt for her husband and four children, all drowned.

CLERK IS ACCUSED OF STEALING FURNITURE

Anaheim Herald, July 23: Roy Charleston was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of petty larceny on a warrant issued by Judge Howard on complaint of the Graham Furniture Company. He pleaded innocence and this morning the case was taken up by Deputy District Attorney A. E. Koepsel.

In the preliminary hearing this morning Charleston pleaded not guilty and was released on $300 cash bail. The bail was put up by his mother, Mrs. Anna E. Charleston, of 214 Kroeger street, and the young man was released.

From the information obtained Mr. Koepsel asked for a search warrant to search the house and the same was granted. In company with Philip Germain, deputy marshal, and Mr. Graham, they searched the house on Kroeger street this morning. It was nearly noon when the truck returned to police headquarters with a load of furniture. It consisted of everything from curtain fixtures to valuable rugs and beds.

During all the time that the search was being made the officers were informed that the furniture had been purchased by the boy or his mother from the furniture company or from the former owner, F. A. Backs.

The deputy district attorney is still working on the case and it is expected that other disclosures will be made this afternoon or evening. The furniture van in front of the police headquarters was a source of attraction for a great many passersby.

The Graham Furniture Company has been missing furniture and furnishings for some time. No trace could be found of the missing goods and it was an unsolved mystery until one or two clues had been traced down. These always led to the same place and resulted in the final step being taken yesterday afternoon. The missing furniture found today will amount to about five hundred dollars. The furniture company is possibly out about eight hundred dollars altogether, but it has not all been unearthed. Attorney H. G. Ames has been retained to handle the defense for Charleston.

DIVORCE DECREE STRIKES HARD

Woman Faints When Judge Announces That His Decision Is Against Her

Judgment of divorce against her, culminating the strain of the trial, caused Mrs. Lucy Patton to faint last evening in Judge Thomas' courtroom. A physician was called, and it was half an hour before she could be removed to her home.

Following the completion of testimony yesterday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, argument was begun. W. F. Heathman, attorney for the plaintiff, Mrs. Patton, talked for three-fourths of an hour, and Clyde Bishop, attorney for the defendant, Benjamin Patton, for about 2½ minutes.

"In this case I order that a decree of divorce be given the defendant," said the judge. "I shall settle the matter of the custody of the children and property rights later."

W.J. Oppenheimer of San Diego County is farming 240 acres in

Pahvant Valley

Western Securities Co.,

711 Hollingsworth Bldg., Los Angeles, Cal.

Gentlemen:—I have been farming two years in Pahvant Valley. I formerly farmed in San Diego County. I didn't have sufficient capital to make money farming in California, so I came up here, where there is choice land with cheap water, and am now farming 240 acres. I will eventually put all of my land into alfalfa and go into the dairying business. I think there are wonderful dairying possibilities here, where alfalfa and grain yield such heavy crops. Since last spring our chickens and two cows have met all our living expenses. I have never seen a better sugar beet country. The beets seem to require very little care here. The water situation is very satisfactory. We get all the water we want here at as low a price as we could possibly desire. I can heartily recommend this country. I like the climate and really prefer it to that of California. Our domestic water is of the purest character. I believe my land will be worth at least $200 when it is all under cultivation. I would not sell even my raw land today for less than $100 per acre.

(Signed)

W. J. OPPENHEIMER.

State of Utah, County of Millard, ss.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of July, 1915.

JEROME TRACY, Notary Public.

Pahvant Valley is on the main line of the Salt Lake Railroad in Southwestern Utah—under $1,000,000 irrigation system. Estimated annual cost of maintenance from forty to fifty cents per acre.

$70 Per Acre for Land and Perpetual (Gravity) Water Right.

$25 An Acre Down, Balance in 10 Years.

Mr. and Mrs. Oppenheimer (former Southern Californians) are enthusiastic about Pahvant Valley. The above testimonial letter was written on July 5th, 1915, and it rings with truth and sincerity. These good people understand farming from A to Z. They have the ability to correctly estimate a land offering. They are land-wise and water-wise. Their good judgment actuated them to buy 240 acres of Pahvant Valley land. They were not urged to buy. Today they would not sell even their raw, uncultivated land for less than $100 per acre. They feel that it was worth considerably more than they paid for it. The Oppenheimers are going into the dairying business and will undoubtedly become wealthy.

Go to Pahvant Valley and meet these people—and many others from California. This is harvest time. See the record-breaking wheat crop—averaging better than 40 bushels to the acre. See sugar beet fields that will run 25 tons to the acre. See the thousands of hogs fattening on the superior alfalfa of Pahvant Valley—big money-makers, every one of them. Talk to hog raisers. Talk to beet growers. Talk to alfalfa seed producers. Talk to wheat growers. You need not take our word for anything. All we ask is that you go and see for yourself. Your eyes and ears will not deceive you. Go and be convinced. A request will bring our booklet by return mail. Special excursions at low homeseekers' rates from Los Angeles.

GUTZMAN-KROCK

Impressive Church Wedding Unites Popular Santa Ana Couple

An impressive ceremony was solemnized last evening at 7:30 o'clock at St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church, where Rev. Anton C. Kleinlein united in marriage Miss Rosa A. Krock, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Krock, and Mr. Carl Gutzman.

Shasta daisies and ferns decorated the church, the altar being adorned with strands of trailing greenery.

The dainty little bride was attired in white crepe de chine, her shimmering wedding veil being caught with clusters of fragrant orange blossoms. Miss Olive Lopez, her charming bridesmaid, wore a becoming gown of pink messaline. The groom was attended by his brother, George Krock. Lohengrin's wedding march, beautifully rendered by Mrs. Kleinlein, announced the entrance of the wedding party, the nuptial vows being pledged in the presence of twenty-five relatives and close friends.

Following the wedding the guests adjourned to the bride's home on Hickey street, and here a delicious wedding collation was served after the array of beautiful wedding gifts were admired.

Chandeliers were draped with fernery and a profusion of pink Amarilla lilies, Cecil Bruner roses and white rosebuds carried out the floral color scheme of pink and white. The bride's table was especially attractive, centered by the lovely bride's cake which was cut midst keen excitement.

Among the out-of-town guests were the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Krock of Los Angeles; the groom's brothers, August Gutzman and family of Anaheim and Albert Gutzman and family of La Habra; also a sister of the groom, Mrs. Emma Heinze and family of Anaheim.

The newlyweds left this morning for Los Angeles and will soon welcome their many friends at their new home, 616 Shelton street, Santa Ana.

LAWN PARTY

Delightful Affair Is Given In Honor of Visitor From Seattle

A company of young people attended a delightful lawn fete given last evening at the W. B. Tedford home in honor of Miss Dorothy Ingersoll of Seattle, who is visiting Miss Marguerite Tedford.

Illuminated by gay colored Japanese lanterns the lawn presented a merry scene and among many other interesting diversions was a trip to the gypsy camp where mystic fortunes, causing a fund of amusement, were told.

Mrs. Tedford was assisted in giving the young people a good time by her house guest, Mrs. Ingersoll. Punch refreshed the company during the pleasant evening and light refreshments were also enjoyed.

Among those present were Misses Dorothy Ingersoll, Laura Davis, Ardes Burns, Mary Jo Grubb, Dorothy Henry Lorraine Roberts, Stella Hupp, Marguerite Tedford; Messrs. David Anderson, Gordon Howe, Eugene Trago, Maxwell Jayne, Ralph Beals, John Wherry, Clarence Holderman and Fred Forgy.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

Ladies Present Miss Viola Hill With Beautiful Steamer Rug

Miss Viola Hill, who will sail from San Francisco August 25th for Ningbo, China, to take up her service as missionary, was a guest of the missionary society of the First Baptist Church of Pasadena, which met yesterday at the home of Mrs. P. S. Tompkins.

Wednesday the ladies of the local First Baptist Church held an unusually interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. G. P. Hill, where Miss Viola and her mother had charge of the afternoon program.

"Recent News From the Field," was the subject chosen and this was especially enjoyed because Miss Hill was able to add a personal touch to the discussion by giving reminiscences of the work of her associates of the Woman's Missionary Training School of Chicago, telling where they were now stationed and reading extracts of several letters.

There were fifty ladies present and while listening to the interesting talks they busily sewed on blue and white carpet rags which will be woven into a rug that will remind Miss Hill of her well-wishing friends when she is far away. This friendly spirit was further emphasized when, in behalf of those present, Rev. Russell presented her with a beautiful steamer rug. Mrs. Carey R. Smith also expressed the pride of the society in having one of their number to undertake such praiseworthy service.

Informal Afternoon

Mrs. George McPhee was hostess yesterday afternoon to a number of friends of Miss Eleanor J. Martin, who with her daughter Miss Marie, will leave for their home in Los Angeles after welcoming Mr. C. S. Crookshank and his bride.

The rooms were prettily decorated with yellow tinted gaily blossoms, combined with sprays of plumosis fern, which the ladies admired as they merrily chatted over their needlework.

Cooling refreshments were served at the conclusion of the pleasant social hours, those present being the guests of honor, Mrs. Martin and her daughter Miss Marie, Mrs. George S. Briggs, Miss Marie Briggs, Mrs. W. B. Dennis of Orange and daughters Marie and Jean; Mrs. Nat Neff, Mrs. Barry McPhee and little June McPhee.

—Dr. J. W. Shaul, 417 Hollingsworth Bldg., Los Angeles, in Santa Ana office Wednesday and Saturday afternoons, 1 until 7:30 p. m. Eye, ear, nose, throat and fitting glasses.

MERRY CELEBRATION

No "Unlucky" Days Are Recognized By Miss Isabel Lopez

To become thirteen years old on Friday, July 23rd, has no hint of dismay for Miss Isabel Lopez, whose birthday was happily celebrated yesterday afternoon at her pretty home on South Birch street.

After the bevy of little friends had been welcomed and their pretty gifts duly admired, a series of merry out-of-door games were enjoyed before Miss Olive Lopez invited the company into the dining room where she was assisted by Miss Ellen Thompson in serving a delicious birthday spread.

The dining room presented an attractive scene with its floral decorations of pink begonias, Shasta daisies and sprays of lacy ferns. From the fern entwined chandeliers above the table a saucy Kewpie was suspended by strands of pink ribbon, two larger members of the Kewpie family presiding at each end of the table while another guarded the beautiful white frosted birthday cake, twinkling with pink candles set in rosebud holds of white. This was merrily passed around while each guest made a wish as she blew out a candle.

Nappings bore cunning little pink Dutch babies and the tints of the prevailing color motif were reproduced in the refreshments. A clever little memory test was next enjoyed, forty articles being placed on the table while the guests were allowed to pass around it, taking mental note of all before their eyes. Adjoining into the next room their keen observation by writing down each article remembered. Miss Ruth Cope was the "star" of this test and received a lovely little cut glass dish as a reward.

Among those who shared in the afternoon's fun and wished Miss Isabel many happy successive birthdays were Misses Helen and Margaret Young, Hazel and Bernice Thomas, Frankie May Taylor, Ruth Cope, Laverne Manning, Margaret Clayton, Charlotte Fine, Reita Read, Regina Shelton, Agnes Lieberman, Lois Manning, and Frances Burrier.

Jolly Wiener Bake

Mrs. K. B. Pierce proved to be an ideal hostess last evening when she entertained a few of her young friends at a jolly out-of-door party.

Games of pleasing variety entertained the merry company, the lawn being lighted by Japanese lanterns and as a final treat, all gathered around a glowing camp-fire to roast wieners and marshmallows.

Among those enjoying the evening's fun were Misses Edna Masters, Ruth Woodward, Hattie Anderson, Zura and Esther Hendrickson, Fernie Smith, Vivian Pierce; Messrs. Neil Smith, Marino, Jesse Rose, Harvey Brown, R. C. Patton and Dr. Charles Doty.

Shiloh Circle Meets

The Shiloh Circle met at G. A. R. Hall Thursday afternoon with a fair attendance considering the warm weather. Two new members were initiated at the previous meeting and one application for membership was received at this meeting.

The report of ten calls upon the sick was made and also one paid to the Soldiers' Home at Sawtelle.

The president, Mrs. Dora Norton, visited the Soldiers' Home last week for the purpose of calling at the hospital to see how Comrade Hepner, formerly of Santa Ana, was getting along. She also visited the cottages of the Ladies of the Grand Army. There are five of these cottages with two families in each. She found all filled and families happy, comfortable and very grateful to the Ladies of the Grand Army.

Plans were discussed for a proposed tea to be held at Garden Grove in the near future, notice of which will be given later.

Successful Dinner-Dance

Beautiful Balboa Palisades was the scene of a merry gathering Thursday evening when seventy-two members and friends of the Orange County Country Club enjoyed dinner and dancing at the Palisades Tavern. Excellent music was furnished for the dancing which followed the appetizing and faultlessly served dinner, the company also enjoying exhibitions of fancy dancing given by Terpsichorean artists.

Jolly Class Social

The Two-in-One Sunday School class of the First M. E. church enjoyed another good time last evening at the home of Mrs. E. J. Bowes, 1417 Ross street, where the monthly business and social meeting was held. The beautiful yard was brilliantly lighted by electric bulbs and after delicious refreshments had been served by Mrs. Bowes and Mrs. C. A. Peters, the company spent two delightful social hours together.

Entertainers Club

The F. and G. Club met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. William G. Schugard of South Main street where the hours were pleasantly beguiled with embroidery and crochet work.

Sweet peas and Shasta daisies artistically decorated the rooms and the hostess served delicious home-made cake with fruit salad, whipped cream and lemon sherbet, before the departure of her guests.

THE S. C. H. B. CAMP MEETING

This camp was opened at Huntington Beach on Thursday, the 22nd, at 3 p. m. and is expected to have three to five services each day, closing with Sabbath night, August 1. Dr. S. A. Danford of North Dakota is the leader and President P. P. Pinkham, with Dr. Ramsey of the Nazarene University, his special assistant, B. W. Pinkham, will usually conduct Bible readings at 10 a. m. and the people are asked to bring their Bibles to that service. Dr. Ramsey will not reach the grounds till Monday, preaching each day to the close of the camp. An experienced leader and has just come from his home camp meeting, which was a service of marvelous power.

A wide, urgent invitation is given to God's ministers and people of every name, to share with us in this glorious service and marks of divinity are on every hand. We greatly desire visits of the unsaved in great numbers and will gladly do all we can to point them to our Christ. Furnished tents are here to accommodate a multitude.

ANAHEIM WILL VOTE ON PROPOSAL $30,000 FOR A NEW CITY HALL

Anaheim Herald: July 23.—The city council last night decided to hold a bond election in the near future to vote bonds for the erection of a new $30,000 city hall. It is understood that the new building will be erected on the site of the present city hall and that accommodation will be made for the fire truck recently purchased. It was the opinion of the council that a new city hall is necessary and that now is the time to buy it on account of the cheapness of material and abundance of labor at the present time.

The new fire truck will be given a tryout Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. A demonstration run will be made and the truck will be shown for the qualities it has as a fire fighter. So far it has been very satisfactory but the trial Monday afternoon will be made before payment has been made of the manufacturers.

OIL PROSPECT
BERRY, Ala., July 24.—This section is watching the operations of an oil company now putting down its first well. One successful well will mean a boom.

WORTH THINKING OVER

Santa Ana, Cal., July 23, 1915. Editor Register:—May I hope to interest you so far as to invite suggestions from humane and generous people in forming the nucleus at least of a home here for old people, with reasonable entrance fee?

In some cases one comes along for health reasons, with but small means and finds life a difficult problem. To trust to strangers must of necessity become more difficult as years increase and sometimes, alas, a danger with serious results. A home managed by trustees would offer a refuge at moderate rates and security from sharks, to be found everywhere. Cannot you influence the public sympathy in our behalf and give us a few quiet and peaceful years in your beautiful state?

COST PER PUPIL RUNNING HIGH SCHOOLS UP ONE-FIFTH

Boys Outnumber Girls In the Lower Grades, In Minority

The average cost per pupil for maintaining high schools in Orange county took a twenty per cent jump this last year over the year previous, and the average cost per pupil for running the elementary schools hopped up seven and a half per cent. The average cost for operating the kindergartens at Santa Ana, Anaheim and Fullerton, all there were in the county, dropped from $32.68 per pupil to $28.30 per pupil.

The average cost per pupil for operating the high schools last year was $156.45; elementary schools, $42.56; kindergartens, $28.30.

The cost per pupil the year previous was: High schools, $128.51; elementary, $39.78; kindergarten, $32.68.

These figures are found in the annual report received by State Superintendent of Schools Hyatt from County Superintendent of Schools R. P. Mitchell of Santa Ana.

One interesting point to be found in the report is that while there are more girls than boys in the high schools, the boys are in the majority in the elementary schools. Taking the high schools of the county altogether a total of 775 boys and 976 girls is shown for the last year. At the same time the grammar and primary schools show a total of 4259 boys to 4059 girls.

In the county as a whole the boys are in the majority in every grade except the first. By grades the totals are: First, 797 boys, 830 girls; second, 592 boys, 525 girls; third, 543 boys, 528 girls; fourth, 585 boys, 574 girls; fifth, 491 boys, 462 girls; sixth, 453 boys, 394 girls; seventh, 417 boys, 401 girls; eighth, 381 boys, 345 girls.

Comparisons
The total receipts for the elementary schools the last year was $569,579.46 and the year preceding $502,262.12; the total expenditures this last year $482,595.56 and $382,842.87 the year previous. Teachers salaries for last year reached $209,181.08, year previous $184,728.50; contingencies last year $84,500.20, year previous $71,049.51; sites, building, furniture, etc., last year $186,541.65, year previous $124,679.97; libraries last year $2,372.63, year previous $238.69.

In the elementary schools of the county are 28 men teachers and 238 women teachers. The average salary paid to the men in the elementary schools is $1,101.16 and to women $745.52.

The total value of all elementary school property in Orange county is $1,285,599.

High School Figures
Statistics concerning the high schools follow:

There are five high schools in the county, all of brick construction; 58 elementary schools, of which 47 are of wood, 7 of brick and 4 of concrete. There are 49 school districts in the county.

The total valuation of all high school property is: Anaheim, $150,000;

Fullerton, $298,000; Huntington Beach, $54,000; Orange, $102,000; Santa Ana, $287,150. Total, $891,150.
Rate of tax: Anaheim, for maintenance, 90c; building, 25c; Fullerton, maintenance, 57c; building, 39c; Huntington Beach, maintenance, 55c; building, 10c; Orange, maintenance, 75c; building, 10c; Santa Ana, maintenance, 75c; building, 10c.

The total registration for 1913-14 was: Anaheim, 253; Fullerton, 241; Huntington Beach, 112; Orange, 242; Santa Ana, 786. The total registration for all high schools that year was 1644, last year 1751.

Total Receipts
During the year total receipts of the high schools were: Anaheim, $37,594.57; Fullerton, $77,828.36; Huntington Beach, $36,847.72; Orange, $38,797.41; Santa Ana, $82,094.97. All, $270,162.13.

Expenditures for teachers salaries were: Anaheim, $20,200; Fullerton, $34,188.58; Huntington Beach, $14,950; Orange, $21,250; Santa Ana, $49,207. Total expense, Anaheim $33,376; Fullerton, $75,674.79; Huntington Beach, $26,273.91; Orange, $34,496.39; Santa Ana, $72,833.82; total, $139,796.23.

Number of days taught: Anaheim, 182; Fullerton, 181; Huntington Beach, 183; Orange, 190; Santa Ana, 168.

Teachers employed: Anaheim, 7 men, 8 women; Fullerton, 9 men, 15 women; Huntington Beach, 5 men, 7 women; Orange, 9 men, 7 women; Santa Ana, 17 men, 24 women; total, 47 men, 61 women, all 108.

Number of graduates: Anaheim, 16 boys, 24 girls; Fullerton, 14 boys, 22 girls; Huntington Beach, 2 boys, 14 girls; Orange, 15 boys, 14 girls; Santa Ana, 39 boys, 68 girls. Total, 86 boys, 142 girls, both 228.

The enrollment by high schools is: Anaheim, 135 boys, 150 girls, all 285; Fullerton, 124 boys, 159 girls, all 283; Huntington Beach, 66 boys, 90 girls, all 156; Orange, 141 boys, 153 girls, all 294; Santa Ana, 309 boys, 424 girls, all 733. Total, boys 775, girls 976, both 1751.

There are four private schools in the county, as follows: Garden Grove Seventh Day Adventist, 28 pupils; Lutheran Trinity school at Olive, 52; St. Catherine's Orphanage, Anaheim, 315; St. John's Lutheran, Orange, 148, both 751.

HERE IS A GLIMPSE OF THRONG CHEERING AS THAW COMES DOWN STREET

Whatever May Be the Merits of the Case, Many New Yorkers
Were Glad to See Harry Thaw Acquitted

This is just a glimpse of the crowd of thousands that awaited Harry Thaw outside the New York County Courthouse when he was freed by Justice Hendrick (shown in insert). The automobiles in the center show one in which Thaw started on his trip to Philadelphia, and others for newspapermen who accompanied him on his remarkable journey.

He drove down Broadway in the heart of the business section while crowds lined the street. He was recognized at once and was cheered time and again. He became so excited at times that he stood up in his auto and waved his hat. Whatever may be the merits of the case, there was no doubt that there were many thousands in New York who were pleased with the decision of the court.

Thaw, though freed, had to give bail in the sum of $35,000 for his appearance in case the state should proceed further. The attorney-general gave notice of an appeal, and compelled him to give a bond.

MARTIN MEMBER ASSOCIATION OF AVIATION BOARD OF NAVY HAS NEW SCHEME

Another signal honor has been conferred upon Glenn L. Martin, the Santa Ana aviator, having been appointed as a member of the aviation board created by Secretary of the Navy Daniels to act in an advisory capacity on questions of naval aeronautics. Upon receiving word to this effect, Martin stated yesterday in Los Angeles that he had solved a number of problems that are perplexing the department. He said that he had a scheme for making the aerial torpedo boat a practical reality and to render the most formidable submarines harmless.

"The idea as it stands at present belongs to a navy man and is a good one," he said, "but it must be developed by an aviator. I do not propose attacking fleets in harbor, but the submarine, the most deadly arm of the naval service, is powerless to injure an air craft, and can escape only by diving."

'Subs' Seen From Above
"Now, at recent maneuvers I found that submarines can be easily seen from an aeroplane, no matter how far below the surface they may be."

"The great difficulty lies in hanging anything on a moving submarine, but I propose to fix them so that they can't get away. By my invention I hope so to hamper a submarine that it will be unable to leave its convoy of battleships. I will torpedo it from the air."

Martin intends to lay his plans before the United States Government after proposing them to the board. If arrangements are satisfactory, he will soon experiment with dummies at San Diego and then afterwards use real explosives at Pensacola, Fla.

To Startle World
He is not at liberty to go into detail at present, but he promises to startle the world when arrangements have been concluded.

"Other problems," said Martin, "such as landing in a heavy sea, drifting on the water like a yacht and acquiring a flight range of 300 miles will occupy the board when it meets on August 20. I have suggestions to make on all these matters and on others that are now kept as navy secrets."

The aerial torpedo craft was announced Thursday as the invention of Rear Admiral Bradley Fiske, U. S. N., who, however, does not contemplate destroying submarines.

Twenty-five enthusiastic vegetable and bean growers of Garden Grove were present at a meeting held in the auditorium of the school house last night for the purpose of taking steps looking toward the organizing of a bean growers' association.

A committee composed by Fred Andres, F. C. Cleveland and H. V. Newson was appointed to confer with the bean growers of the Garden Grove district. This committee was also instructed to inquire as to the probability of a bean cleaning machine and to look up a suitable location for the cleaning plant. The committee will make its report at another meeting which is to be held in the near future.

During the discussions of the evening it was suggested that the bean cleaning machine be installed in the house of the walnut growers' association. The suggestion met with favor though the matter was left in the hands of the committee.

It is quite likely that definite steps for the organizing a bean growers association will be taken at the next meeting.

Mr. Hazelton, of Smeltzer, representing the California Vegetable Union, was present at last night's meeting and gave positive assurance that the union will start work in about three weeks on its new vegetable packing plant at Garden Grove.

When he was asked in regard to the probable location of the vegetable house, Mr. Hazelton would not commit himself. He stated that the house would be completed in time to handle this season's tomato output.

Hazelton stated that the union anticipated no difficulty next season in obtaining enough cabbage from the Garden Grove district to make up from 150 to 200 carloads.

DAVID HEWES AT 93 PASSES TO FULLER LIFE OF BEYOND

undeveloped state, and because of his part he holds place among the characters of the Pacific coast. Though his direct connection with this county dates back only to 1881, an early date in the history of the development of what is now Orange county, his life in California actually began when he arrived at San Francisco with the "forty-niners" who came by way of the isthmus. He had left Yale, where he was a student, to join in the rush for gold. At Sacramento he entered into the mercantile business. Among men then engaged in similar business there at that time were Collis P. Huntington, Leland Stanford, E. B. Crocker and Mark Hopkins, with whom Mr. Hewes was later intimately associated in numerous enterprises.

Makers of San Francisco
His business being destroyed by fire and flood in 1852, Mr. Hewes went to San Francisco, where literally he became one of the makers of the great San Francisco of today. For a number of years he was engaged in the grading contracting business. His men moved foothills into the edge of the bay. Much of what was known as Mission Bay and many acres of that part of San Francisco between the foot of Montgomery street and the present waterfront are "made" land, made under the supervision of this energetic man.

As relics of the early days, Mr. Hewes kept for forty years a pioneer engine and pioneer locomotive used in California, and the first pony engine used in Oregon. The first two were presented by him to the State of California, in the keeping of the Golden Gate Park Commission, and the last to the State of Oregon, received as valuable left-overs of the early days.

Notable Gifts Made
Among notable gifts made by Mr. Hewes are the bells at Mills College, near San Francisco. With the founding of that institution in 1870 he became one of its trustees. The chimes were erected under his instructions in 1901.

Visitors at the museum of Stanford University find a splendid collection of sculpture, paintings and other valuable art wares given to the museum by David Hewes. The work of gathering this collection began in 1875 when Mr. Hewes and his wife, who before her marriage was Mrs. Matilda C. Gray of Brooklyn, N. Y., toured Europe, and was added to up to the time it was presented to the university in 1892 as a memorial to Mr. Hewes' second wife, Mrs. Anna Lathrop Hewes, who had interested herself in adding to the collection. After the earthquake of 1906 Mr. Hewes employed experts who repaired all of the statuary broken in the catastrophe, restoring to the museum one of its most treasured collections.

Entertained President
Mr. Hewes became interested in this section in the early eighties, when he came here and settled at Tustin, for the benefit of his wife's health.

While living at Tustin, Mr. and Mrs. Hewes also maintained a beautiful home on Lake Merritt, Oakland, their residence being selected as the place for the entertainment of President Hayes and Mrs. Hayes on the first presidential tour of the Pacific Coast.

Among other interesting occasions of this interesting man's career are the presentation by him of the golden spike, the last spike used in the erection of the Central Pacific railroad, and his marriage in 1889 at United States Senator Leland Stanford's residence to Miss Anna Lathrop, sister of Mrs. Stanford.

Problems in 'Frisco
His sterling faith in California was never more fully demonstrated than it was in 1906 after the San Francisco fire. "Burned today, build tomorrow," was the wording of a telegram sent by him to his nephew, Straightway he put his words into action, and as a result a superb fifteen-story building was erected at the corner of Sixth and Market streets, San Francisco, declared by a convention of architects to be the finest building constructed in San Francisco since the great disaster.

David Hewes was a descendant of the same family as Joseph Hewes, one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence.

Hon. Frank P. and Motley H. Flint of Los Angeles are nephews of Mr. Hewes; their mother, Mrs. Althea Flint Danksin, being his sister. Senator Flint was at the deathbed last night. There are also a number of relatives living in San Francisco and Oakland.

Some Fifty Heirs
There are perhaps fifty heirs. Mrs. Lucy Richards, a sister, who is now past 91 years, lives in the East.

In Oakland are Mrs. H. E. Chandler, niece; Granville D. Carl H. and Philip F. Abbott, nephews.

In San Francisco, Col. C. Leslie Hewes, nephew; Mrs. C. P. Morgan, niece; Mrs. Charles W. Hewes, sister-in-law; Mrs. George J. Dealey, niece. At the Hewes ranch today it was stated that Hewes Park would be kept up for a while at least. Whether or not the park would be kept up and open to the public beyond a short time could not be stated.

SUMMER ACHES AND PAINS
The backache or stiff muscle that cannot be explained on account of having "sat in a draft and caught cold" is more than likely the result of weakened or disordered kidneys. Foley Kidney Pills promptly relieve backache, sore, swollen or stiff muscles and joints, rheumatism, and sleep disturbing bladder ailments. They put the kidneys in sound, healthy condition, and help them eliminate uric and other poisons from the system. Rowley Drug Co.

BUSINESS MIXED WITH PLEASURE AT MEET OF CHAMBER

At the opening of the Tustin Chamber of Commerce meeting Wednesday night the president, E. M. Nealey, announced that as the previous meeting had been more in the nature of an entertainment, this one would be more of business than entertainment.

However, the program was opened with a beautiful violin and piano duet by Misses Gertrude and Dorothy Utt, after which some matters very interesting and important to Tustinites were brought up for discussion. The first was that of fire protection. S. E. Tingley made a statement of the casualties in and around Tustin within the last four years, showing that while they have not been very frequent, yet there have been a few houses burned to the ground. He stated that as the town builds up and houses come closer together there will be more and more need for protection from fire. The secretary, S. W. Stanley, was prepared with suggestions regarding various kinds of apparatus and methods of fire protection in a small place. After these were explained and discussed it was decided that the necessary funds could probably be raised by subscription from persons living within a certain district and the matter was left in the hands of a committee composed of Mr. Utt, Mr. Tingley and Mr. Stanley.

It was then reported that the street signs which a former improvement association placed in Tustin had, some of them, fallen down and were dilapidated, while others had disappeared altogether. A committee was appointed to look after this matter, and the committee was instructed to place a prominent sign at each of the three new highway entrances to Tustin on Prospect avenue, Laguna avenue and First street. As Tustin is a collection of ranch homes amid orchards and trees and not a city, it is difficult for strangers to know when they reach the Tustin district, and therefore the desirability of these signs.

It was then suggested that it would be more convenient for many Tustin people to pay their electric light bills at the Tustin Bank, the same as the gas bills, instead of going to Santa Ana to pay them. This matter was also referred to a committee.

The routine of business was varied by another pretty violin and piano duet. The president then said that he had been thinking for some time, and others also had spoken about the fact, that Tustin should make an effort to advertise some of its own beauty spots. He had been reminded that on last Easter morning 11,000 people attended a sunrise prayer meeting on Mt. Rubidoux at Riverside. If people knew about it, there is just as beautiful and magnificent a view to be obtained from Lemon Heights and it would be a splendid thing to have a similar gathering there. C. E. Utt, who knows more about Lemon Heights than any one else, was asked to give his opinion on the subject. He said there was plenty of space for 11,000 people at the top of Lemon Heights, but a tremendous amount of advertising would have to be done before needing that much space, judging from the interest people were taking in the Tustin Chamber of Commerce. This latter was with reference to the small meeting Wednesday night, which was necessarily so at the mid-summer vacation time.

Those present were asked to do what they could to get up an interest in such advertising and to bring the subject up at a future fuller meeting.

ICE CREAM SOCIAL
 Those who attended the ice cream sale and social given by the ladies of the Advent Christian Church last Wednesday night found it very enjoyable. The lawn at the parsonage was illuminated by the lovely moonlight which was not obstructed by any trees. The warm day was forgotten amid the gentle evening zephyrs and a delightful social time was enjoyed over the delicious ice cream and cake.

BUMPER WALNUT CROP PROMISED AT TUSTIN

The apricot crop has now been harvested and buyers have been visiting Tustin and offering pretty good prices, although they have not been high enough to tempt many sales.

There is every indication of a bumper crop of walnuts. Large limbs of walnut trees are breaking down with the weight of nuts. The nuts are a good size and the clusters are unusually large. It has been necessary to use props all through the orchards to protect the limbs of the trees. Prospects have never been brighter for a large harvest of walnuts than they are at present.

ARGENTINE VISITOR IS CHARMED WITH TUSTIN

J. R. Miller of Argentina was entertained Wednesday and Thursday by Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Marchant. Mr. Miller is a friend of Clyde Marchant, who is now in South America.

Mr. Miller was shown some of the pretty places in Orange county and spent the day Thursday at Laguna. He said he liked very well to live at Argentina, but Tustin was certainly an ideal spot for residence.

LOS ANGELES PEOPLE MAKE STOP IN TUSTIN

Mr. and Mrs. Austin McManus and Jack Forline of Los Angeles are in Tustin for a week or ten days' stay. Messrs. McManus and Forline are representatives of the Robt. B. Armstrong Company of Los Angeles, who are conducting excursions to Seal Beach for those who would like to invest in very desirable lots at that attractive beach town.

Several Tustin people took the excursion on Thursday and were impressed with the many desirable points about Seal Beach, its entire absence of undertow making it safe for very small children and at the same time affording a splendid surf for older ones.

Mr. and Mrs. McManus have found Tustin a delightfully quiet place to make their headquarters while conducting their work at Santa Ana.

EDITORIAL

LONDON WOMEN ACTIVE

The women of England no longer sigh for a vacation. War contingencies have furnished work which is giving vent to their pent-up energies, formerly spent in the fight for suffrage.

The following from "The Nation" gives a good idea of the work now necessarily being done by women:

"The demand for women teachers has been very great and many boys' schools are now almost wholly staffed by women."

"No one can pass through Victoria Station without marveling at the bee-hive activity of the women's free buffet for soldiers on their way to or from the front. The special constable who turns out for night patrol duty may now quit his home side by side with his wife on her way to an all-night shift at the tea and coffee canteens."

"Women 'drummers' are making a distinct success by their tact, industry, keenness and economy."

"We are now quite accustomed to buy our suburban railway tickets from and have them clipped by smart-looking young women. The Tube station at Maida Vale is entirely staffed by women. A few tramway conductors have also made their appearance."

"The Athenaeum was the first club to introduce waitresses into their sacred halls, but its example has been freely followed in less venerable institutions."

"Women are now not infrequently seen in control of the business vans and automobiles of Whiteley's and other stores. My butcher now calls for orders in the form of a smart girl on a bicycle. Riding mistresses are busy preparing young officers for mounted service."

"The papers contain many advertisements for girls to act as messengers, book-stall attendants, office boys and elevator attendants and for women as gardeners and even as coachmen."

"This is not given as advocating war in the least, but as teaching the lesson that the busy brains and fingers of the girls must have useful work to do in order that they shall be happy, and 'Where there is a will there is a way.'"

AT THE SAN DIEGO FAIR

An automobile party going from here to the San Diego fair last week comprised Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bennett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Osborne of Hollywood. They were joined on Monday by Rev. W. S. McDougal, who returned with the party on Wednesday.

The Santa Ana Steam Laundry Co. wishes to announce the success of their Wet Wash Department recently introduced. A superior quality of work, with prompt service, has made a rapid increase. Try it. Phone 33.

PICNIC JOLLY AT ORANGE COUNTY PARK GIVES PLEASURE

Several Tustin families enjoyed a delightful picnic last Friday at Orange County Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Leck, Misses Zena Leck, Leona and Loraine Bainbridge, Mrs. C. E. Utt and family, Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Marchant and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Awe and family, Mrs. Easterbrook, Miss Emma Thorman were all of the party going out by automobile in the early morning.

All the delights of the park were taken in, including boat rides on the lake and rambles through the park.

Of course the sumptuous picnic dinner was a feature of the noonday.

MISS CHILDS AT LAGUNA

Miss Minnie C. Childs is now spending a few weeks in the Rice cottage at Laguna Beach. She is engaged in making some sketches for the Chicago National Art Exhibit. Miss Childs' stay at the beach will be all the more pleasant because of the fact that some of her eastern artist acquaintances are spending the summer there.

Mrs. C. E. Utt and Misses Dorothy, Louise and Elizabeth Utt will be guests of Miss Childs at Laguna during next week.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Elmer Rittner and Dorothy Holton, little cousins, celebrated each a seventh birthday together on Thursday afternoon at Elmer's home.

They had a jolly good time first with an animal hunt and then with other games and stunts.

Their little friends who attended were Truxton and Billy Lindsey, Charlie Thorman, Ida Thorman, Helen and Josephine Sawdey, Ruth and Gracie Elliott.

Two lovely birthday cakes with seven candles were admired and enjoyed by all the guests.

TUSTIN PERSONALS

Misses Anita and Irene Preble leave Wednesday for San Francisco to visit the exposition and will spend the remainder of the vacation with Mrs. Effie Slusser in the northern part of the state.

Mrs. J. O. Preble and Miss Clara Williams are visiting the San Diego exposition this week.

Miss Lurline Gutzler and Miss Putnam of Minneapolis, Minn., who are visiting in Santa Ana, were guests of Mrs. E. J. Cranston in Tustin on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Freeman, who have been living at Heber, Imperial Valley, are now permanently located in Santa Ana.

E. H. Hess of Los Angeles was a guest at the Willard home last Sunday.

A. Thorman, Otto Thorman and Misses Clara and Emma Thorman spent last Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the San Diego exposition.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hulbert, Mrs. J. A. Phinney and Misses Inez, Elida, Lenora and Beulah Phinney returned Tuesday from a delightful trip to the San Diego fair.

Albert Smith attended the national convention of the Christian Church in Los Angeles, held at the Bible Institute from Saturday until Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith have just returned from a pleasant visit to Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Banfield of Pasadena were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cook last Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Charles Lambert and Miss Dolly Morrison returned Wednesday from a week's stay at the San Diego fair.

Mrs. J. C. Stearns, a former Tustin resident, now of Watsonville, is visiting friends in Santa Ana, Tustin and vicinity. Mrs. Stearns, her son Jerome and daughter, Helen, motored down in her own machine from Watsonville.

Miss Clara De Gries of Lordsburg is spending the week and Sunday with Mrs. F. L. Richardson.

Little Miss Helen Pollard is a visitor at Huntington this week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bennett and family and Mrs. W. S. McDougal and children spent an enjoyable afternoon at Laguna Beach Friday.

Miss Zella Darnell was a guest of Misses Emma and Ella Awe this week.

Clyde Heaton visited friends in Tustin last Saturday and Sunday.

Miss Dorothy Lindsey left Monday for a two weeks' visit to Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Leck, Miss Zena Leck and Miss Loraine Bainbridge spent a delightful day Thursday at Laguna Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McCollum and son Roff, from Berkeley, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Lindsey on Tuesday. They are on their way to visit the San Diego exposition.

James U. Virgil Deaver, Leslie Talmage and Robert Thorman left Thursday for a trip by boat to San Francisco to visit the exposition.

Talks to Farmers

How Much Interest Do You Net Upon the Valuation of Your Land?

After deducting all working expenses, your time and labor, how much do you net per acre per year? 1 per cent, 5 per cent, or 10 per cent? What is the value of your land, $500, $750, or $1000 per acre? How much do you pay for your water, and how much water do you get for what you pay?

If you could buy land much closer in to a much bigger, faster growing city than where you are living at the present time, with better transportation facilities, better stores, amusement and education, as good or better climate than where you are now, and know that the land would net you conservatively 25 per cent per year, where you could grow all the things you are growing at the present time of a superior quality and with better organized markets to buy your produce at higher prices and you could get all the water that you want delivered to your land by ditch at a flat rate of $1.00 per acre per year, and you could buy that land in California at $200.00 per acre, practically on your own terms, you would be interested, would you not?

THIS is exactly and truthfully what I have got to offer if you are interested in farming, you owe it to yourself and your family to invest where they can be the most happy and contented and you can make the largest possible profit from the smallest investment. I have a little booklet dealing on this land "FUNDAMENTAL FARMING FACTS" that will be of vital interest to you and may mean your whole future success, call in or write and I will be glad to give you one. THIS is your opportunity to make a success. Will you grasp it?

VANILLA ICE CREAM
Try This Recipe and Preserve For Future Reference

What more welcome treat can you offer the folks at home these hot days than a nice cold dish of good ice cream? The number of different flavors in which ice cream is made at the present time is surprising, but the old-fashioned vanilla flavor still remains the favorite with the great majority. The following recipe for making vanilla ice cream, therefore, should be preserved in every home.

One cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 pint milk, 1 or 2 eggs, 1 pint cream. Mix the cornstarch with the sugar, and add to the slightly beaten eggs. Pour on the milk slowly, add the salt, and cook over water until thoroughly done. When cold, add the cream and freeze, flavoring with vanilla to taste.

While all the ingredients in ice cream should be good, the results will not be satisfactory unless the best quality of cornstarch is used. One of the best known woman writers in this country on culinary subjects says that those who have the best success with cornstarch recipes always depend upon the famous Kingsford's brand.

Kingsford's Cornstarch has stood the test of time. It costs no more than inferior kinds. Insist upon Kingsford's and ask your grocer for the little Corn Products Cook Book, which contains hundreds of valuable culinary hints.—Advertisement.

school went to Seal Beach for a picnic Friday. It took one large truck and a number of machines to accommodate all.

Mrs. Ethel Lawrence and her daughter, Miss May Lawrence, of Marion, Ohio, are being entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McElree.

Mrs. Lambert, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Saylor, left Tuesday to visit the San Diego fair. From there she will go to the San Francisco exposition before returning to her home in Kansas City.

Mr. and Mrs. Holt and family returned this week from their trip north by machine. They spent a week with Mr. Holt's brother and family at Gilroy and then went to San Francisco, accompanied by the brother and family in their machine. They report a fine trip and did not have to stop a moment for repairs.

Mrs. Emmons has been quite sick again for the past two days.

Mrs. Shaw and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Carson, cousins of the Chiltons, motored down from Los Angeles Sunday and spent the day with the Chiltons.

Mr. Barnes has just had a new well put in. Mr. Cunningham did the work. Mr. Shields returned home the last of the week from his trip north, looking well and reports a fine trip. Mrs. Shields will remain with her sister at Fresno for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Swail, of Sherman, called on Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Stark Friday on their way to Huntington Beach.

Jack Jentges has rented the store on Euclid avenue next to the drug store. His large warehouse facing the depot is conveniently located at the rear of the store, also a smaller warehouse directly back of the store. His growing feed and grain business demands more rooms.

Mr. Jentges has gone north through Tulare county to purchase hay.

The Baptist young people of Fullerton invited the Baptist young people of Santa Ana and Garden Grove to spend Tuesday evening, the 20th, with them at their church home. Seventeen persons from the Garden Grove society went over in automobiles and there was about the same number from Santa Ana.

A bountiful repast was provided by the Fullerton young people who, under the leadership of the president, Alvin Ford, showed every consideration for the comfort and happiness of their guests.

Before leaving the tables at the call of the president, Alvin Ford, the young people gave a short, witty talk on the question "What Does the Young People's Society Mean to Me?" J. Garfield Allen responded admirably for the Garden Grove society.

After a few moments of social intercourse between guests and hosts, the company adjourned to the auditorium for what proved to be a very helpful meeting. Alvin Ford presided and George Hampton led the song service.

Echos from the recent international B. Y. P. U. A. convention held in Oakland, were given by four who attended the convention and an address by the field-worker, Rev. L. P. Valentine with the benediction closed the evening's exercises.

Alvin Ford, president of Santa Ana Valley Association, B. Y. P. U., is to be commended for his efforts to bring the young people of the churches together that they may know each other and be better equipped for the work assigned them.

The W. C. T. U. held a Mother's meeting at the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. E. Arrowsmith took charge of the program which was greatly enjoyed by all present.

VALUE OF THE NEW EDUCATIONAL HELPS
Every Useful Feature Shown
In a Most Unusual and Unique Manner

Find the best way to do a thing and then do it that way. This is indeed a good motto for anybody to follow. It seems to have been an established rule with the publishers of the New Illustrated Bible which the Register is now presenting to its readers.

The wonderful new educational helps contained only in this great work comprise exactly what every body most needs and should have in a volume of this kind. Most of the topics are of a purely historical character, taking up the peoples and the land of those days and touching upon geographical data and historical events of that time. These original instructive helps constitute a complete educational course that can be had from no other source.

The correct pronunciation of every proper name is indicated by a system of accents and diacritical marks, which will enable you to read with absolute certainty of pronouncing, with the utmost accuracy, even the most puzzling Scriptural names of people and places. The marginal references and variant readings are more profuse than in other editions.

The superb maps, in brilliant colors, were engraved especially for this edition and are not procurable elsewhere. They are remarkable for their accuracy and mechanical execution, being artistically printed from perfect new plates. The colors are tasteful and artistically blended.

Then besides the unique feature of illustrations printed in with the type where they belong, there are all of the best of the world-famous Tisot pictures. These are full-page plates in colors, and go to make this volume a rare work of art in every respect.

On the whole, this New Illustrated Bible which the Register presents to its readers is a modern volume in every respect, and the splendid illustrations alone make it superior to all other editions. Present six educational certificates and get this great work at once. Today's certificate is printed on another page, where the entire plan is fully explained.

New York the Greatest City
Greater New York is now the largest city in the world unless the metropolitan and city police districts of London are counted together. According to the figures given out this week from the census supervisors of Brooklyn, Queens, Manhattan, the Bronx and Richmond, New York had a population of 5,245,812 on June 15. The last census of London gave a population of 4,522,964, but with the metropolitan and city police districts combined it was 7,252,963.

NEWS BUDGET OF TALBERT

TALBERT, July 24.—Thursday afternoon while George Bradley was working at the East Talbert beet dump he received a very bad cut above his right eye. Mr. Bradley was trying to get a car of beets ready for the trainmen to take to the factory and while he was working the train moved from the dump, causing Mr. Bradley to fall and receive a severe cut.

Miss Della Giler, who has been attending the high school at Huntington Beach, was carried to the Santa Ana hospital last week to be operated on for appendicitis.

One day last week Parson Parsons, who has a gasoline station in connection with the store, sold over two hundred gallons of gasoline in one day. It would be easy to judge from this that the Talbert boulevard is kept busy.

The Talbert Improvement Association had a regular meeting Thursday evening with a small attendance. The question was brought up again for discussion of running the river channel through to the ocean. But the difficulty seems to be in going over or under the Pacific Electric track.

Mrs. J. J. Townsley and children returned the week visiting her sister, Mrs. J. E. Barker, in Santa Ana.

Will McGill, who has been in San Diego for the past few months, returned to the Talbert ranch this week.

Bert Carey and family motored to San Diego last Saturday and returned Monday.

Mrs. L. Thurman, who has been at Long Beach for the past few months, is with her daughter, Mrs. S. E. Talbert, now.

Wiley Ambrose of Oceanside visited his sister, Mrs. C. F. Ward, last Sunday.

Flossie McCuiston, of Los Angeles, visited her brother, Jay McCuiston, at the home ranch this week.

Mrs. Anna Chandler is spending the summer with relatives at Hemet, J. E. Browner made a business trip to Los Angeles Tuesday.

Vance L. Burge of Castlewood, S. D., is spending a few days this week at the home of A. F. Swift.

Anna and Cora Kozina returned this week from Tustin, where they have been visiting relatives.

Mrs. Jose Merriman and daughter, Meriam, of Los Angeles, is visiting Mrs. M. A. Nimmo's at this week.

P. P. Walker and daughter, Mrs. Charles Griser, of Old Newport, motored to Los Angeles Wednesday.

Tucson Banks Prosper
The four banks in Tucson, Arizona, are in splendid condition according to the reports submitted showing condition June 23. The figures follow:
Resources ..... $4,556,138.66
Deposits ..... 3,661,761.92
Surplus ..... 175,000.00
Undivided profits ..... 153,635.58
Speaking of the showing and assistance Cashier Williams of the Consolidated National Bank says:

"Each bank is shown to hold cash funds in excess of the government and state reserve requirements. If general business conditions at the present time are taken as a whole the local financial institutions in their reports show considerable improvement. Prevailing conditions throughout the United States, according to the best reports obtainable, are favorable to business improvement. One principal unfavorable factor is the weight given to the possible effect of the European war upon our future credit situation. Manufacturers and merchants of this country have been given an inducement to extend their business interests by reason of the large gold supply in New York, and the easy credit situation. Whether the present abnormal gold supply will be kept up by the purchase of goods for export or will be depleted by further liquidation of American securities by foreign holders, is a problem. In our own section of the country the excellent prices offered for cattle, and the development of nearby mining districts by eastern capitalists indicate prosperous conditions."

San Francisco Fair Successful
Panama-Pacific Exposition in the twenty weeks that it has been open has proven a great success in point of attendance. During the period visitors to the exposition have spent in admissions and with the concessionaires, since February 20, $5,435,893.56. This is exclusive of the exposition book sales. In the Zone and other concessions $3,108,893.56 has been spent. The actual cash admissions during the first half of the exposition year will reach approximately $1,225,000. Miscellaneous receipts amount to $800,000. The exposition's percentage from the concessionaires' receipts to date amounts to $587,113.56.

E. C. Conroy, chief of the department of admissions and concessions, Comptroller Rodney Durkee and J. A. Barr, chief of the department of conventions, predict that the second half of the exposition year will be far more successful than was the first period. The gross expenses of the exposition are now reduced to $16,000 a day as against $26,000 a day during the first four weeks.

"It's pretty hard to find anything better than a good promise well kept."
—Mister Squeegie

Men's greatness is measured, not by the things they promise to do, but by what they accomplish.

So it is with all things in this world.

Many men have announced their intention of doing greater things with electricity than Edison has done.

They have not made their promises good, and Edison remains the wizard of science.

The popularity of Diamond Squeegie Tread Tires is due to their merit in giving cheap mileage and fulfilling service requirements with unvarying regularity.

Great promises are made for other tires—promises that in many cases are never fulfilled.

More than 99% of all Diamond Squeegie Tread Tires exceed the service that is promised for them.

That comes pretty near giving you absolute certainty.

LOS ANGELES PRODUCE MARKET

The wholesale fish dealers of Los Angeles have recently altered the price of some varieties of marine food. Crabs now sell for $4.00 a dozen, and the supply will cease altogether July 31. The canning season for oysters is on in full swing and as a result pint oysters are not being quoted by the local trade until September 1. Yellowtail, king fish and catfish are no longer on the market, and mackerel has been raised to 6 cents a pound. Prices established for other varieties of fish are: Barracuda, 6 cents a pound; rock cod, 5 1/2; rock bass, 6; tuna, 6; striped bass, 15, and clams, 6 cents per pound. The local produce market was quiet and featureless yesterday, with an over-abundant quantity of fresh fruit on hand. Cantaloupes were still cheaper, standard crates declining 10 cents and jumbos being offered to the purchasing public for $2.00. Peaches continue plentiful and very cheap, with Satsuma plums flooding the market. The vegetable list suffered considerable readjustment Friday and new prices were all on a downward scale. New quotations are as follows: Green limas, 5 to 6 cents per pound; cucumbers, 30 to 35 cents a lug; peas, 5 to 5 1/2 cents, and tomatoes, 50 cents, either in lugs or crates.

CURRENT PRICES

HERE IS FULL TEXT OF AMERICA'S LATEST NOTE TO GERMANY: FIRM STAND IS TAKEN IN EVERY WAY

The note of the Imperial German government, dated the 8th of July, 1915, has received the careful consideration of the government of the United States, and it regrets to be obliged to say that it has found it very unsatisfactory, because it fails to meet the real differences between the two governments, and indicates no way in which the accepted principles of law and humanity may be applied in the grave matter in controversy, but proposes, on the contrary, arrangements for a partial suspension of those principles which virtually set them aside.

The government of the United States notes with satisfaction that the Imperial German government recognizes without reservation the validity of the principles insisted in the several communications which this government has addressed to the Imperial German government with regard to its announcement of a war zone and the use of submarines against merchantmen on the high seas—the principle that the high seas are free, that the character and cargo of a merchantman must first be ascertained before she can lawfully be seized or destroyed, and that the lives of non-combatants may in no case be put in jeopardy unless the vessel being summoned to submit to examination; for a belligerent act of retaliation is per se an act beyond the law, and the defense of an act as retaliatory is an admission that it is illegal.

U. S. REGRETS BERLIN FEELS SELF EXEMPT

The government of the United States is, however, keenly disappointed to find the Imperial German government regards itself as in large degree exempt from the obligation to observe these principles, even where neutral vessels are concerned, by what it believes the policy and practice of the government of Great Britain to be in the present war with regard to neutral commerce.

The Imperial government will readily understand that the government of the United States cannot discuss the policy of the government of Great Britain with regard to neutral trade except with that government itself, and that it must regard the conduct of other belligerent governments as irrelevant to any discussion with the Imperial German government of what this government regards as grave and unjustifiable violations of the rights of American citizens by German naval commanders. Illegal and inhuman acts, however justifiable they may be thought to be, against an enemy who is believed to have acted in contravention of law and humanity, are manifestly indefensible when they deprive neutrals of their acknowledged rights, particularly when they violate the right to life itself. If a belligerent cannot retaliate against an enemy without injuring the lives of neutrals, as well as their property, humanity, as well as justice and a due regard for the dignity of neutral powers, should dictate that the practice be discontinued. If persisted in it would in such circumstances constitute an unpardonable offense against the sovereignty of the neutral nation affected.

CANNOT ABANDON ESSENTIAL RIGHTS OF PEOPLE

The government of the United States is not unmindful of the extraordinary conditions created by the war or of the radical alterations of circumstances and methods of attack produced by the United States of the instrumentalities of naval warfare which the nations of the world cannot have had in view when the existing rules of international law were formulated, and it is ready to make every reasonable allowance for these novel and unexpected aspects of war at sea; but it cannot consent to abate any essential or fundamental right of its people because of a mere alteration of circumstance. The rights of neutrals in time of war are based upon principle, not upon expediency, and the principles are immutable. It is the duty and obligation of belligerents to find a way to adapt the new circumstances to them.

The events of the past two months have clearly indicated that it is possible and practicable to conduct such submarine operations as have characterized the activity of the Imperial German navy within the so-called war zone in substantial accord with the accepted practices of regulated warfare. The whole world has looked with interest and increasing satisfaction at the demonstration of that possibility by German naval commanders. It is manifestly possible, therefore, to lift the whole practice of submarine attack above the criticism which it has aroused and remove the chief causes of offense.

LUSITANIA AGAIN SUBJECT OF COMMENT

In view of the admission of illegality made by the Imperial government when it pleaded the right of retaliation in defense of its acts and in view of the manifest possibility of conforming to the established rules of naval warfare, the government of the United States cannot believe that the Imperial government will longer refrain from disavowing the wanton act of its naval commander in sinking the Lusitania or from offering reparation for the American lives lost, so far as reparation can be made for a needless destruction of human life by an illegal act.

The government of the United States, while not indifferent to the friendly spirit in which it is made, cannot accept the suggestion of the Imperial German government that certain vessels be designated and agreed upon which shall be free on the seas now illegally proscribed. The very agreement would by implication subject other vessels to illegal attack and would be a curtailment and, therefore, an abandonment of the principles for which this government contends and which in times of calmer counsels every nation would concede as of course.

The government of the United States and the Imperial German government are contending for the same great object, have long stood together in urging the very principles upon which the government of the United States now so solemnly insists.

They are both contending for the freedom of the seas. The government of the United States will continue to contend for that freedom from whatever quarter violence comes.

lated, without compromise and at any cost. It invites the practical co-operation of the Imperial German government at this time when co-operation may accomplish most and this great common object be most strikingly and effectively achieved.

WILL VIEW ACT AS DELIBERATELY UNFRIENDLY

The Imperial German Government expresses the hope that this object may be in some measure accomplished even before the present war ends. It can be. The government of the United States not only feels obliged to insist upon it by whomsoever violated or ignored, and in the protection of its own citizens, but it is also deeply interested in seeing it made practicable between the belligerents themselves and holds itself ready at any time to act as the common friend who may be privileged to suggest a way.

In the meantime the very value which this government sets upon the long and unbroken friendship by the people and government of the United States and the people and the government of the German nation impels it to impress very solemnly upon the Imperial German government the necessity for a scrupulous observance of neutral rights in this critical matter. Friendship itself prompts it to say to the Imperial government that repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of those rights must be regarded by the government of the United States when they affect American citizens as deliberately unfriendly. (Signed) LANSING.

Western Oil Producers' Association

(From L. A. Financial News.)

Oil operators and superintendents of oil companies from all parts of California to the number of one hundred, at a meeting held at the Petroleum Club in Taft, Saturday evening, July 10, took preliminary steps toward the organization of the Western Oil Producers' Association. This is the culmination of a movement started several weeks ago to bring about remedial legislation through congress for those operators on oil lands who are affected by the withdrawal order of President Taft in 1909. Invitations had been sent to all oil men in the state and the attendance at the meeting was unusually large. Those in attendance were most enthusiastic. W. O. Maxwell presided as temporary president and F. J. Burns was temporary secretary. Plans looking to a permanent organization were presented.

Among the speakers was George E. Bush of Riverside, a well known attorney, who has spent several months in Washington at various times in an effort to bring about remedial legislation for the Midway Northern, Maricopa Northern and other companies affected by the withdrawal. Mr. Bush pointed out that the path was now open for representatives of all oil companies, working hand in hand, to bring about remedial legislation. He explained that the task before other representatives in years past was a hard one because of greater number of eastern representatives in congress believing California was on the edge of the world and that the oil men were endeavoring to steal what really belonged to the government. In the way of suggestions relative to what would be best for the committee to do, Mr. Bush said: "You must first compile your data so that you will have all points at the finger ends of the committee. You must not send too many men to Washington, but send men who can present your plea in the proper manner—men who can get the ear of congress and be convincing. Be careful who you send. Pick dignified men—men who can present figures and those who will work together."

Ben Howe, of the Trojan Oil Company, who has given much attention to withdrawal procedure and who is accorded one of the best posted oil men in the Sunset district, in a short talk emphasized that all operators on withdrawn lands should be open and aboveboard with government officials who are making inquiries. "These officials must make a report to congress," said he, "and it appears certain to me that an adverse report relative to a company is certain to be given if the superintendents treat the inquiries with the contempt which I know some have been accorded. Instead of withholding information all would be benefited and a better report to Washington could be secured if the officials making investigations for the government were treated openly and aboveboard."

F. N. Smith, of the Midway Peerless in the North Midway, gave an idea from a new point of view. "My company is a lessor," said Mr. Smith, "and we are anxious to see this brought to a head. The locators appear to have the most to do, but the locator and the lessor must pull together or nothing will be accomplished."

J. W. Wiley of Bakersfield brought out the need of educating the eastern representatives of congress and claimed that at the present time a great opportunity was being lost. "Many of the representatives are now visiting California and the expositions," said Mr. Wiley, "and it is high time we were bringing many of them into the fields and showing them what a vast investment has been made and what it really means to drill for oil."

L. P. Gulberson, of the Indian and Colonial Development Company, emphasized the words of Mr. Wiley by telling of two college professors who claimed to have a thorough technical knowledge of oil and who toured the fields with him a few days ago. "These college men, though apparently well versed, showed that they knew little about the cost of producing oil," said Mr. Gulberson, "which makes it certain that a plan for the education of those with whom we must deal ought to be made along oil lines before they can be brought to judge wisely."

E. J. Miley in a few words stated that "we are all in the same boat and getting together is the only proper way. We must have a representative of the oil interests as a whole."

The meeting closed with representatives of thirty companies signing up as members of the permanent organization, thus forming a nucleus for a general campaign of membership which is to be carried on in the field and in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

Average mileage is the real test

Spectacular cases of big mileage furnish little evidence of tire quality. It's the average of thousands of tires run under all sorts of conditions of every-day use that really counts. And that's where Savage Tires show up strong. Because of the highest grade of raw materials and the great care used in manufacture, Savage Tires are uniformly better and average much greater mileage. Casing after casing runs over 10,000 miles, many over 14,000.
